Cease-Fire Due Start Today In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A 24-hour cease-fire between junta and rebel forces was scheduled to start at noon today to permit removal of dead and wounded from Santo Domingo's battle-torn northern suburbs.

The Red Cross and the United Nations negotiated the agreement to suspend the five-day battle which has caused a death toll estimated at more than 100.

"I have every hope that this 24-hour cease-fire will be permanent," Dr. Luis F. Fernandez Martinez, president of the Dominican Red Cross, told a newsman.

But the junta president, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, whose forces have cut deep into rebel positions in the northern part of the capital, vowed to carry his attack into the main insurgent stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo. He hinted this would happen next week.

Rebel spokesmen acknowledged that their northern forces were being encircled with their backs to the Ozama River.

Imbert told a newsman: "It is now too late for a permanent cease-fire such as the United Nations and the Organization of American States have been trying to arrange."

"We have renewed our military operations and they cannot be stopped," he declared.

"We want to avoid bloodshed if possible, and we are giving every chance to those in the rebel area to surrender or to come out. But we have to take the rebel stronghold very soon, and bring peace back to the country."

U.S. military authorities announced that a Marine was killed by rebel fire Wednesday night after he and another Marine accidentally drove their truck into insurgent territory.

The body of the dead Marine, who was not identified, was returned to U.S. authorities. The other man, Pfc. Leslie Mykle of Utica, N.Y., was released by the rebels.

The Marine's death brought to 19 the number of Americans killed since U.S. forces landed in the Dominican Republic more than three weeks ago.

The Johnson administration denied reports in news dispatches from Santo Domingo that U.S. troops have been actively helping the junta force crush the rebels.

Cyrus R. Vance, deputy defense secretary, told a news conference in Santo Domingo that President Johnson's orders that impartiality be observed by American troops have been made "crystal clear" to all U.S. military commands in the Dominican Republic.

Vance added that future U.S. moves in this country would be dictated "by events and circumstances" which are not now foreseeable."

In Washington, Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester said American forces from the outset have been under orders to "maintain an attitude of impartiality between the junta and rebel forces." He said they have complied except when firing in self defense against snipers.

50 Plotters Arrested In Capital City

Quat Asserts Coup Attempt Work Of Dissident Military

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A lightning series of raids Thursday night and today blocked an attempt to overthrow Premier Phan Huy Quat's government and the South Vietnamese military high command.

Quat said one rebel officer was killed resisting arrest.

Reliable sources said at least 50 other plotters, including a colonel and several majors were arrested. They were being held at the heavily guarded police headquarters in Saigon.

Several of the key plotters were reported still at large.

Quat said the coup attempt was the work of dissident military men who tried in November and again in February to take power.

"This is a Vietnamese affair," said a U.S. spokesman, adding that the embassy was aware that several plots against the government and the military command were boiling up.

The spokesman said Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor had been "fully informed" of developments. He went ahead with a planned inspection trip to the northern part of the country.

Quat charged that the Communist Viet Cong had a role in the atempted coup but did not give details of this.

The coup attempt sent all military installations in the Saigon area into a state of alert Thursday night and shattered the calm which had appeared to prevail in the capital's political world for the past two months.

Quat's military supporters apparently acted before the coup attempt got off the ground. There were no signs of the activity usually accompanying such upheavals, and the city this afternoon appeared generally normal.

However, the headquarters of the National Police was sealed off, and tanks and machine-gun emplacements were manned around it.

Construction Will Begin On New Motel

Construction is expected to begin late next week on a new motel at 320 E. 3rd St., which will include 20 motel units, 12 efficiency apartments, a cocktail lounge, restaurant, banquet room and beauty shop.

To be known as the Inn Town Motel, it is expected to be completed late in September. Clearing of the 120-by-130-foot site, acquired through the Kaiser Agency, has been under way for some time.

The officers of the new corporation are J. Ray Woomer, president; Michael Pusateri, vice president, and John R. Woomer, secretary - treasurer.

Designed by Robert F. Beatty, architect, the L - shaped structure of masonry and precast concrete will be constructed by John Woomer. The "total electric" concept will be used.

The motel units will be in a two-floor wing extending back from E. 3rd St. on the west end of the site. Jo Ann Maria Styling Center will operate a beauty shop featuring continental hair designs in the motel wing along with a sauna bath which will be available to motel customers.

A three-floor wing facing E. 3rd St. will include the motel registration office, restaurant and cocktail lounge on the first floor and the efficiency apartments on the top two floors.

The banquet room and kitchen facilities will be located on the ground floor.

A typical motel unit will be approximately 12 - by - 20-feet with individual bath and shower and a dressing area in each. There will be telephones and television in each room.

The efficiency apartments will be approximately 14 by 26 feet and will include a full bath, storage area and an apartment unit combining a range, oven, refrigerator and sink.

The banquet room will extend under the three-floor wing and will accommodate up to 300 patrons.

Team Climbs Mt. Everest

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Victory-hungry India put aside its worries today to salute 19 new heroes — the members of the first Indian team to climb Mt. Everest.

Army Capt. A. S. Cheema and Nawang Gombu, a Sherpa, reached the 29,028-foot peak of the world's highest mountain at 9:30 a.m. Thursday and tied the Indian and Nepalese flags to the pole left there two years ago by an American expedition, the government announced.

Five more Sherpas, including Nawang's brother Anu Kami, joined them on the top of the world. It was the largest group that ever has been on Everest's summit at one time.

Nawang and Anu are nephews of Tenzing Norgay, one of the first two men to reach the top of Everest, in 1953. It was Nawang's second trip to the top, making him the first climber to achieve that distinction. His first time up was with the Americans in 1963.

Indian newspapers and officials pushed aside their nation's food shortages, its near war with Pakistan, its internal political stresses and the threat of Red China to hail the climbers.

President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan messaged "our heroes" of his delight because "this new conquest is entirely an Indian effort and is therefore all the more thrilling."

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said the climbers "have brought glory to India and I am so proud of them."

The awesome, snow-capped peak had been climbed three times before — by Sir John Hunt's British team in 1953, by a Swiss group in 1956 and by Norman Dyhrenfurth's American expedition in 1963. Two previous Indian expeditions failed in 1960 and 1962.

The Indian expedition was led by Navy Lt. Cmdr. M. S. Kohli. It left New Delhi Feb. 22 and worked its way slowly up the south face of the mountain, using the same route earlier successful expeditions took.

The climbers established their base camp on March 22. For the past two weeks they were reported stalled 1,098 feet below the summit. A radio message said the weather cleared about 5 a.m. Thursday, and Cheema and Gombu made for the top.

They spent 30 minutes at the summit.

6 Major Dairies Hit By Strike

Toledo Faces Weekend Without Any Fresh Milk

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sale of powdered milk and canned evaporated milk took a sharp upturn today as this city's 350,000 residents headed into a weekend in which fresh milk won't be delivered to their doorsteps or be available at neighborhood stores.

The milk supply was just about dried up by a strike early Wednesday of Teamsters Local 361 against the six major Toledo dairies. The union is deadlocked with the companies in negotiations on a new contract for about 500 drivers and plant workers employed by the dairies.

Thursday a few stores still had milk for sale — in most cases because they held it back from Wednesday's rush of customers. But by noon the stocks of all the supermarkets and larger stores were gone. Generally, sales were limited to one gallon per customer.

Some fresh milk still is available from a small dairy, Sterling, which has no Teamsters Union contract and serves about a dozen stores. And residents in northern Lucas County need drive only a short distance across the state line to Michigan to pick up a few gallons.

Infants and adults with ailments requiring milk in their diet are able to obtain it with a doctor-signed slip at one of four fire houses in the city. The Teamsters arranged for Village Farms Dairy, one of the struck companies, to supply milk for distribution at the fire stations and to hospitals, children's homes, rest homes and nursing homes.

Raid Evidence Killed By Judge's Decision

BEAVER — Evidence obtained by Pennsylvania state police in raids on 20 clubs and fraternal organizations will be suppressed and cannot be introduced at trials, Judge Morgan H. Sohn ruled Thursday.

The judge based his ruling on a 1932 federal court case since upheld by the Court of Appeals that the raids violated the Fourth Amendment of the Constitution covering search and seizure.

Defense attorneys and District Atty. Robert Masters had agreed to present only one petition filed to suppress the evidence. Each of the petitions claimed the state police had gained entrance through fraudulent membership cards.

Masters said today he has conferred with Atty. Gen. Walter Alessandroni and state police headquarters in Harrisburg and a conference will be held next week to determine if Judge Sohn's decision should be appealed.

Probers Seek Cause Of Fatal Plane Crash

CAIRO (AP) — Investigators probed the charred wreckage of a Pakistani jet airliner today looking for a cause of the accident that killed 121 persons, including four Americans.

The four-engine Boeing 270B was on an inaugural flight from Karachi to London, via Cairo, when it crashed Tuesday into the sands in a desolate area outside Cairo.

Action Slated To Nip Debate On Vote Bill

Mansfield To File Petition, Putting Measure To Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield sets the machinery in motion today for ending debate on the voting-rights bill and putting it to a vote.

Joined by at least 31 senators — there may be additional late signers — Mansfield will file a petition that seeks to limit each senator to an hour's speaking time on the bill and all its amendments.

The petition comes to a vote Tuesday. If two-thirds of the senators voting follow the leader, cloture will be applied and, Mansfield hopes, the bill can be brought to a vote by week's end.

Except for the petition filing in early afternoon, not much action was expected on the administration-backed measure today. It's a Friday and many members of Congress find it hard to resist a long weekend.

Last year the cloture rule was invoked successfully for the first time to cut through a filibuster against civil-rights legislation.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Thursday he thinks enough senators will vote for cloture this time and that the debate limitation will open the way for passage of the bill next week.

Dirksen told newsmen he thinks at least 24 of the 32 Republican senators will vote to end debate. If they do and if all 100 senators vote, it will take 43 of the 68 Democrats to stifle Southern talk against the bill.

Southern senators have been fighting the legislation with words and with proposed amendments, contending it would deprive states of their constitutional right to fix voter qualifications.

Target Date Announced By NASA

4-Day Space Flight Set For 2 Astronauts June 3

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today that Thursday, June 3, is the target date for the four-day space flight of Gemini astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II.

Officials had said previously that the flight was scheduled "in the third quarter of 1965," which begins July 1. However, news services have listed the June 3 date for several weeks, based on unofficial sources.

The agency had listed the later period to provide time for preparation and to avoid criticism if the target day were missed.

NASA said McDivitt and White will circle the earth 62 times in 97 hours, 50 minutes to evaluate the effects of extended space flight on crew performance and physical condition.

The agency said it had not yet determined whether White would be the first American astronaut to expose himself to the elements of space from a spacecraft. It reported that the space suit and hatch-opening procedure had not been fully qualified. A decision might not be made until a day or two before launcing, the agency said.

If the go-ahead is given, White will open the hatch and poke his head into space for a 15-minute look-around.

Soviet Alexei Leonov left his Voskhod spacecraft for a 10-minute walk in space March 18. Complete emergence of a U.S. astronaut is not planned until later this year.

The eight U.S. astronauts who have flown into space logged total flight time of 65 hours, 44 minutes. The longest single mission was 34 hours, 20 minutes, by Air Force Maj. L. Gordon Cooper Jr.

McDivitt and White, also both Air Force majors, are to triple the present flight-time figure.

Soviet cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky stayed in space a record of five days. Soviet scientists indicated he had suffered some medical problems and since then have limited their manned space trips to one day.

McDivitt and White further are to evaluate the maneuverability of the Gemini spacecraft, which was demonstrated on the March 23 three-orbit flight by astronauts Virgil I. Grissom, Air Force Major, and John W. Young, Navy lieutenant commander. Four orbit changes are planned.

During their long stay in orbit the spacemen will eat four meals each a day and will sleep about eight hours daily, in four-hour shifts. They plan a total of 11 medical, scientific and engineering experiments.

Senator Raps Bill To Curb Gun Traffic

Says Oswald Could Easily Have Bought His Rifle At Store

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gordon Allott attacked today the administration-backed bill to curb gun traffic. He said Lee Harvey Oswald could just as easily have purchased his rifle from a sporting-goods store as from a mail-order house.

"That gun from a sporting-goods store would have been just as deadly as the mail-order weapon he used," said Allott, a Colorado Republican, in testimony prepared for the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee.

Two days ago, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, testifying in favor of the bill, told the subcommittee:

"As long as I live, I can never forget that it was a mail-order rifle — sent to a post-office box, that had been rented under an assumed name, by a man with an established record of defection and mental instability — that killed President Kennedy."

Allott and another Republican senator from the West — Arizona's Paul Fannin — argued that the administration bill would penalize ordinary, law-abiding citizens without correcting abuses in the use of firearms.

Allott said he objects to the notion that the word "guns" is "a four-letter, Anglo-Saxon word with dirty connotations."

He said, "Perhaps we of the West are more familiar with firearms and therefore fear them less, recognizing it is the abuse of the weapon that is the real problem. There are legitimate uses and legitimate users and I strongly feel we must not unduly hinder these legitimate uses in attempting to curb the abuses."

Fannin said in his prepared testimony: "The regulations embodied in S. 1592 (the gun bill) would not prevent the determined criminal from obtaining firearms; instead it would impose severe penalties on millions of honest, law-abiding citizens."

New Step Set For Project On Lisbon St.

In another step forward in a joint city-state project for widening, resurfacing and partial relocation of Lisbon St., so-called consent legislation was delivered to City Hall today from the State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey received the legislation and an explanatory letter from Sherman S. Price, division design and planning engineer. He said he will turn over the legislation to Councilman Norman Bucher, chairman of the ordinance committee.

The city and the state have been negotiating on the project for several years. It calls for improvement of Lisbon St. (State Route 267) from W. 8th St. to the north city limits at LaCroft.

Price also advised Vodrey that preliminary legislation for a blacktop resurfacing project on Pennsylvania Ave. will be turned over to the city within

Strip-Mining Legislation Still Held In Committees

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — An impasse over strip mine legislation in both houses continued right up to weekend adjournment of the General Assembly Thursday.

In the House, a so - called "moderate" bill sponsored by Rep. Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne, House finance chairman, was sent to a seven-member subcommittee along with orders from committee chairman, Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, to hold the bill until further notice from him.

In the Senate, what once was a more stringent bill until it was diluted by coal industry amendments remains locked in the rules committee.

Sponsor of the bill, Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, has been working feverishly in an attempt to spring it onto the Senate floor.

In meeting with chief opponents of the bill, led by Sen. Oakley Collins, R-Lawrence, Sargus has insisted on restoration of language which would give the forestry reclamation division chief increased discretion in denying licenses or adjusting performance bond.

Fisher's bill went to the subcommittee after a few strip mine operators and a Kent State University professor raised objections to certain bonding and reclamation proposals.

Wetzel who chairs the mines and conservation committee, named Rep. Taliesin Evans, R-Coshocton, chairman of the subcommittee. He told Evans he would advise him when to hold the first meeting and that he would sit in on subcommittee sessions.

Named to the subcommittee along with Evans were Reps. A. K. Wilson, R-Perry; Harcy Armstrong, R-Hocking; Roy J. Gilliland, R-Jackson; William Elliott, D-Morgan; Raymond

It reported that the space suit and hatch-opening procedure had not been fully qualified. A decision might not be made until a day or two before launcing, the agency said.

If the go-ahead is given, White will open the hatch and poke his head into space for a 15-minute look-around.

Soviet Alexei Leonov left his Voskhod spacecraft for a 10-minute walk in space March 18. Complete emergence of a U.S. astronaut is not planned until later this year.

The eight U.S. astronauts who have flown into space logged total flight time of 65 hours, 44 minutes. The longest single mission was 34 hours, 20 minutes, by Air Force Maj. L. Gordon Cooper Jr.

McDivitt and White, also both Air Force majors, are to triple the present flight-time figure.

Soviet cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky stayed in space a record of five days. Soviet scientists indicated he had suffered some medical problems and since then have limited their manned space trips to one day.

McDivitt and White further are to evaluate the maneuverability of the Gemini spacecraft, which was demonstrated on the March 23 three-orbit flight by astronauts Virgil I. Grissom, Air Force Major, and John W. Young, Navy lieutenant commander. Four orbit changes are planned.

During their long stay in orbit the spacemen will eat four meals each a day and will sleep about eight hours daily, in four-hour shifts. They plan a total of 11 medical, scientific and engineering experiments.

New Step Set For Project On Lisbon St.

In another step forward in a joint city-state project for widening, resurfacing and partial relocation of Lisbon St., so-called consent legislation was delivered to City Hall today from the State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey received the legislation and an explanatory letter from Sherman S. Price, division design and planning engineer. He said he will turn over the legislation to Councilman Norman Bucher, chairman of the ordinance committee.

The city and the state have been negotiating on the project for several years. It calls for improvement of Lisbon St. (State Route 267) from W. 8th St. to the north city limits at LaCroft.

Price also advised Vodrey that preliminary legislation for a blacktop resurfacing project on Pennsylvania Ave. will be turned over to the city within

Strip-Mining Legislation Still Held In Committees

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — An impasse over strip mine legislation in both houses continued right up to weekend adjournment of the General Assembly Thursday.

In the House, a so - called "moderate" bill sponsored by Rep. Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne, House finance chairman, was sent to a seven-member subcommittee along with orders from committee chairman, Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, to hold the bill until further notice from him.

In the Senate, what once was a more stringent bill until it was diluted by coal industry amendments remains locked in the rules committee.

Sponsor of the bill, Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, has been working feverishly in an attempt to spring it onto the Senate floor.

In meeting with chief opponents of the bill, led by Sen. Oakley Collins, R-Lawrence, Sargus has insisted on restoration of language which would give the forestry reclamation division chief increased discretion in denying licenses or adjusting performance bond.

Fisher's bill went to the subcommittee after a few strip mine operators and a Kent State University professor raised objections to certain bonding and reclamation proposals.

Wetzel who chairs the mines and conservation committee, named Rep. Taliesin Evans, R-Coshocton, chairman of the subcommittee. He told Evans he would advise him when to hold the first meeting and that he would sit in on subcommittee sessions.

Named to the subcommittee along with Evans were Reps. A. K. Wilson, R-Perry; Harcy Armstrong, R-Hocking; Roy J. Gilliland, R-Jackson; William Elliott, D-Morgan; Raymond

Senator Raps Bill To Curb Gun Traffic

Says Oswald Could Easily Have Bought His Rifle At Store

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gordon Allott attacked today the administration-backed bill to curb gun traffic. He said Lee Harvey Oswald could just as easily have purchased his rifle from a sporting-goods store as from a mail-order house.

"That gun from a sporting-goods store would have been just as deadly as the mail-order weapon he used," said Allott, a Colorado Republican, in testimony prepared for the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee.

Two days ago, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, testifying in favor of the bill, told the subcommittee:

"As long as I live, I can never forget that it was a mail-order rifle — sent to a post-office box, that had been rented under an assumed name, by a man with an established record of defection and mental instability — that killed President Kennedy."

Allott and another Republican senator from the West — Arizona's Paul Fannin — argued that the administration bill would penalize ordinary, law-abiding citizens without correcting abuses in the use of firearms.

Allott said he objects to the notion that the word "guns" is "a four-letter, Anglo-Saxon word with dirty connotations."

He said, "Perhaps we of the West are more familiar with firearms and therefore fear them less, recognizing it is the abuse of the weapon that is the real problem. There are legitimate uses and legitimate users and I strongly feel we must not unduly hinder these legitimate uses in attempting to curb the abuses."

Fannin said in his prepared testimony: "The regulations embodied in S. 1592 (the gun bill) would not prevent the determined criminal from obtaining firearms; instead it would impose severe penalties on millions of honest, law-abiding citizens."

Despite Johnson Switch-Off

Government's Light Bill Due To Go Up $900,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes, President Johnson, you can't win for losing.

You go around switching off the lights in the White House and somebody at the Census Bureau gets a new electric computer.

It adds up to this: The federal government's electricity bill is expected to rise a total of some $900,000 in its buildings across the country in the coming year. It was $20,900,000 last year.

It appears to be an embarrassing predicament — with a boss in the White House who's cut his electric light bill by a reported $1,800 a month — from $4,600 to $2,800.

However, the President's example may be responsible for slowing down the increase in government electricity costs.

A check today at the General Services Administration, which pays the utilities bills for some 6,000 federal buildings (out of some 9,100 such buildings) brought this information:

The electricity cost increase is due largely to new air-conditioning equipment being put in existing buildings.

Improvements in light intensity is definitely a factor (work output is supposed to improve with better lighting).

Federal agencies are installing more automatic data processing equipment, and this, too, requires more electrical power.

Of course, new federal buildings are going up, with more lights, more air conditioning and more mechanical equipment.

But somebody must be turning off the lights — or something.

The GSA said that in the past three years electricity costs had been rising an average of 6 per cent a year. For this year, the rise is only 4.3 per cent.

A check around town turned up no general directive from the White House, the GSA or the Budget Bureau to "turn off the lights."

However, various officials said the word had got around.

As T. Sutton Jett, director of the Capitol Park Service, which pays the bill for the White House, told a congressional committee recently: "I guess these things go beyond the White House. Elsewhere in the park system we are more inclined to turn them (the lights) off, too."

Trio Suffers Injury

Man Loses Control, Auto Goes Over Hill

Summer Activities Outlined At Senior Citizens Meeting

Summer activities were discussed at a meeting of the Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon at the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, which featured a "walk-in" session. Jack Barrett, president, presided.

The discussion was led by Mrs. C. E. Hickenbottom and events suggested included a picnic at Thompson Park, a trip to the Warren Playhouse, Canfield Fair and the Sunset Senior Citizens Group in Steubenville.

Louis Groglode invited the members to visit the flower garden at his home on Lincoln Way.

Plans were completed for the trip to the World's Fair at New York City Saturday through Tuesday. The chartered bus will leave the terminal at 8 a. m. tomorrow.

A rummage sale will be held at the Halpate Building in East End, beginning June 1.

Humorous readings were presented by Mrs. Edith Nichols. The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Carr, sang "Kindly Light" and "Juanita." Mrs. Nell Pelley was accompanist.

Mrs. Helen Kent, a member, who has not been able to attend a meeting for several months because of a broken ankle, was welcomed back.

Special prizes were awarded Leo Payne, Gail Richmond and Mrs. Stella Osborne.

Lunch was served to 135, including five visitors, by Mrs. Ruth Given and her committee.

The next meeting will be Thursday at the Parish Hall. A delegation from the group will join in a four-hour boat ride, beginning at noon.

Despite Johnson Switch-Off

Government's Light Bill Due To Go Up $900,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes, President Johnson, you can't win for losing.

You go around switching off the lights in the White House and somebody at the Census Bureau gets a new electric computer.

It adds up to this: The federal government's electricity bill is expected to rise a total of some $900,000 in its buildings across the country in the coming year. It was $20,900,000 last year.

It appears to be an embarrassing predicament — with a boss in the White House who's cut his electric light bill by a reported $1,800 a month — from $4,600 to $2,800.

However, the President's example may be responsible for slowing down the increase in government electricity costs.

A check today at the General Services Administration, which pays the utilities bills for some 6,000 federal buildings (out of some 9,100 such buildings) brought this information:

The electricity cost increase is due largely to new air-conditioning equipment being put in existing buildings.

Improvements in light intensity is definitely a factor (work output is supposed to improve with better lighting).

Federal agencies are installing more automatic data processing equipment, and this, too, requires more electrical power.

Of course, new federal buildings are going up, with more lights, more air conditioning and more mechanical equipment.

But somebody must be turning off the lights — or something.

The GSA said that in the past three years electricity costs had been rising an average of 6 per cent a year. For this year, the rise is only 4.3 per cent.

A check around town turned up no general directive from the White House, the GSA or the Budget Bureau to "turn off the lights."

However, various officials said the word had got around.

As T. Sutton Jett, director of the Capitol Park Service, which pays the bill for the White House, told a congressional committee recently: "I guess these things go beyond the White House. Elsewhere in the park system we are more inclined to turn them (the lights) off, too."

Trio Suffers Injury

Three persons were injured late Thursday afternoon on Routes 22 and 30 near the Fort Pitt Inn, Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie reported.

State Police said a small compact operated by Gary L. Wade of Oakdale, Pa., had halted on the highway to make a left turn and was hit in the rear by a tractor-trailer driven by Joseph Avey, 50, of Everett, Pa.

Lisbon Kiwanis Holds Ladies Night Program

LISBON — Almost 100 attended the annual "Ladies Night" program of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Methodist Church dining rooms.

Each woman received special gifts. The Kirkwoods of Akron presented a skit, "Oh, Doctor", and a combo from the Key Club of Lisbon High School presented music.

Atty. Donald Lewis, president, welcomed the guests and then turned the meeting over to Fran Henry, general chairman of the affair. Dan Myers led group singing.

Locating The Nearest Exit

There is strong support for U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic but only wavering support for ever-deepening U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Long years of experience, billions of dollars and thousands of casualties among South Vietnamese troops and U.S. advisers have convinced many Americans that Viet Nam is a hopeless cause. But there is still a happy illusion that the Dominican Republic is about to be saved; that a happy ending has been written into the script and will show up presently.

How will the American people feel about the Dominican Republic if their troops must stay there year after year?

How long would it take before U.S. soldiers in the field began to wonder what they were doing there and people back home began to wonder why they should continue to go along with a military project that didn't seem to be getting anywhere?

IT WAS EASIER to get into Santo Domingo to cope with an emergency in the city's affairs that threatened U.S. lives than it will be to go out of Santo Domingo.

government that plagues the United States in South Viet Nam. If the net effect of intervention proved to be nothing but a triumph for the military junta the Dominican rebels wanted to break up, that would be no victory for the United States.

It would confirm that the rebels were fighting in a just cause.

The United States would not dare to leave the country, for fear of another rebel uprising.

The Dominican rebels, after all, have the only claim to political legitimacy under U.S. standards for holding elections. The junta has no interest in elections. It does not trust the people who have just tried to shoot it out of power.

But neither does it trust the United States, which has been proposing a compromise with the rebels. If the junta stays in control and the United States stays in Santo Domingo, it will be only a matter of time until one or the other must yield.

IF THE MATTER of time stretched into years, there would be the same disenchantment about a happy ending that there is about the disappointing script that has unfolded in Viet Nam.

Perhaps that is the mistake we make.

Perhaps there are no happy endings in adventures in peacekeeping.

Perhaps there are only endless efforts to avert disaster.

Wonderful!

The ultimate test of a sales spiel is whether it makes a customer of the salesman.

"The Wonderful World of Ohio," now in its first issue, will make every Ohio booster a customer for his state's attractions.

The beautifully illustrated magazine is aimed at tourist trade. It is designed to do for the natural attractions of this state what has been done for other states and foreign countries by the literature passed out in travel agencies.

"The Wonderful World of Ohio," however, is far beyond the travel folder class. It is a high-class magazine, intended for sale and of sufficient quality to make it worth keeping after buying.

It is a brilliant and attractive successor to the Ohio Conservation Bulletin. It is another part of the Rhodes administration's imaginative device for putting Ohio in the front rank by refusing to take a back seat for anyone.

If it can maintain its standard for the first issue, "The Wonderful World of Ohio" might undermine Ohioans' reputation for being the most widely traveled Americans. They might all decide to stay home and have more fun.

Unsafe For Hitchhiking

Our staff correspondent at Columbus has reported that both houses of the Ohio General Assembly have turned thumbs down on thumbs-up hitchhikers on the state's expressways.

We are happy to see this action.

We have no particular prejudice against hitchhikers. In fact the writer of this opinion piece was a hitchhiker himself in his younger days, which were when the Model T was in full swing and highways were not clogged and dangerous for thumbers of free rides.

IT'S A DIFFERENT STORY now. It has proved too often dangerous for a kind-hearted motorist to pick up a hitchhiker who might rob him or sue him.

It is dangerous, too, for the hitchhiker to risk being hit by a fast vehicle or for him to slow one vehicle at the peril of being banged into from behind.

The idea behind the new law barring hitchhikers from expressways is safety. High-speed freeways are no place for vehicles to be stopped by thumbers or anyone else.

ANOTHER PART of the legislation we ardently like is a Senate amendment which would prohibit slow-moving vehicles from using expressways.

Because of them, two lanes of traffic sometimes are backed up for a mile or more behind a vehicle incapable of traveling faster than 35 miles an hour. The resultant attempts to weave in and out to get around the slowpoke are extremely dangerous.

Slow vehicles should use 35-m.p.h. city streets—not 60-m.p.h. and 70-m.p.h. expressways.

We hope the Senate amendment prevails and the measure soon becomes law so it can be enforced for the safety of all.

The Nighthawks

When Joe Sanders died in the Veterans Hospital at Kansas City last Friday, he was 68. Who remembers Joe Sanders? Who was Joe Sanders?

He was the Sanders of the Coon-Sanders Band, first dance orchestra in the United States to play on a regularly scheduled radio program. The orchestra played in the Muehlbach Hotel in Kansas City. The program was known as the "Nighthawks."

Back there in the primitive era of radio, you fiddled with the controls late at night in the hope of hearing dance music. If you finally zeroed in on the "Nighthawks" you woke up the family to share this fantastic miracle of electronics.

No one could understand how it was possible. You looked at the map to see how far away Kansas City was and shook your head in disbelief. All that distance? And coming in as clearly as if it were across the street!

The Coon-Sanders band became famous through radio. Later, it toured the country on its broadcast fame. Carleton Coon died in 1932.

No account of radio's early days is complete without the Coon-Sanders contribution to its pioneer period—the era of the battery, the loudspeaker as big as a washtub and the thrill of bringing in music all the way from Kansas City. Imagine!

It Takes Time

They're calling it the "new left"—all this milling around by college students who are giving fits to their elders.

The elders are scared of it.

They're more scared than they were when college kids were moping around and sniveling about being the "beat generation."

The trouble then was, nobody gave a whoop. Young men were dull-eyed about the whole thing. Young ladies didn't care, either.

Suddenly, action took the place of apathy. Students in the United States began to act like students have been notorious for acting everywhere else. They began to think of themselves as involved in the issues of the day.

No one can explain it.

There's the easy explanation that Communists are behind it all, but it's too easy.

Communists are willing an able to exploit it, as they're willing and able to fish in troubled waters wherever they can drop a Communist line.

There's more to it than agitators moving in to take advantage of something already started.

Couldn't it be that the explanation is lying in plain sight on every college campus in the United States?

Couldn't it be that the upsurge in college enrollment—the post Sputnik attempt to get more young Americans enrolled in college—tells the story?

Gone forever is the sedate, cloistered atmosphere of the traditional ivy-covered halls of learning—the leisurely pace of character-molding under the patient, living hands of Mr. Chips and associates.

With us now is mass education that has pulled into the vortex of learning tens of thousands of students being whirled dizzy by the academic egg-beater.

The old school tie and grandpappy's fraternity affiliation are meaningless to these people. Sitting at the feet of a revered professor on some hallowed ground of Academia is not what they are thinking about.

Their idea is to get with it because they know they're mixed up in it.

But, being young and full of bravado, they know nothing about caution. When they try to get with it, they can think of nothing to do but demonstrate.

They mill around—

Scaring their elders into a cold sweat;

Drawing the opprobrium of critics who think the American young should be seen and not heard—and seen just as infrequently as possible;

Shooting off their mouths . . . and picketing . . . and sitting . . . down . . . and standing up.

Why don't they grow up? Well, for one thing, it takes time.

For another thing, it takes understanding on the part of grownups, who did their growing up during marathon dancing, goldfish eating, hip flasking, toss-potting and various and sundry darned fool activities of another era.

It's Hard To Understand!

The Role Of The Opposition

By Raymond Moley

The English-speaking nations have come to take two-party government so much for granted that most of us fail to realize how relatively recently it originated. But the concept of two parties—one holding the power of government, and the other seeking that power—really originated 200 years ago.

Edmund Burke, who never headed a British government or party, and who held no public office except for a short time, was the originator and spokesman for party government in England.

The written landmark of this development, which means so much in the history of liberty, was a pamphlet which Burke wrote in 1768 and which was published in early 1769. It was called "Observations on a Late Publication intituled (sic) 'The President State of the Nation.'"

WHEN BURKE wrote this pamphlet, politics in England was in a period of transition. The great days of the older William Pitt had passed and the old man had become the Earl of Chatham.

Leadership in the House of Commons passed from one to another. Meanwhile, George II, who in his best days was a very capable monarch and politician, was determined to create one-party rule under Royal authority.

Burke was just emerging as a force in the Commons, and he attached himself to the Whig group headed by the Earl of Rockingham, which for a few months had held office three years before.

The king, who had unlimited patronage and favors to dispense, settled himself in power for 15 years.

During most of this period his obedient prime minister was Lord North, whose baleful place in history was earned because his blundering government lost the richest of all British possessions, the American Colonies.

Burke, the intellectual guide and spokesman for Rockingham's party, was determined that opposition to the King's government should be strong and consistent, despite the grave emergency reated by the armed warfare in America and later by war with France.

THE POWER of the king to break into a minority opposition was very great. For he was the dispenser of incalculable inducements to leading Rockingham Whigs, from Cabinet posts to outright bribery.

In a monumental new biography, "Burke and the Nature of Politics," by Carl B. Cone of the University of Kentucky, there is a summary of Burke's belief in the necessity of opposition:

"Burke's 'Observations' summarized his developing thought about politics and party. As he had been doing on the floor of the Commons, Burke pleaded the cause, not only of his party, but of party government in general. His pamphlet contains glimpses of a new idea in English politics. A political party out of office should oppose the administration, not in a factious spirit, but in order to insure good government. . . .

By 1769 Burke had advanced farther toward an appreciation of one of the essentials of cabinet government, namely, the strategic importance of political parties, than most members of his political generation would in their lifetimes. But his understanding was still incomplete; it would continue to mature during the coming year, and then he would be ready to explain to his contemporaries and to posterity the nature and proper function of political parties."

FOR 12 YEARS Burke held his party together. For there was plenty to say in opposition. There were great impediments to commerce — the very life of England—created by bad laws and administration. The machinery of administration was sorely in need of reform. Government finances were in deplorable shape. Corruption prevailed not only in English government but through private exploitation in India.

On all these Burke spoke and wrote not only with incomparable eloquence but with a wealth of hard-won detail. Finally, after the loss of the American war, Rockingham came to power for a short period. Rockingham died, and the younger Pitt took over.

There is a good deal that Republicans might learn from this history. Opposition is never so necessary as when it is small in numbers.

Between Acts

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Do you ever get the feeling that at this moment you're standing in the lobby of history, just chewing the fat, between acts in one of the great dramas?

The world now is in the period between the Red Chinese conquest of their poverty-ridden land in 1949 and the time less than a decade away when they will have H-bombs and can deliver them.

It is not stretching the imagination to think Red China will in time try to dominate all Southeast Asia, or all Asia. Just remember the attitude of the United States toward Latin America, past and present.

The Red Chinese would run contrary to the nature of nations and their own nature if, once they had the power, they did less than try to exclude the influence of the West from Asia where its colonialism has left a bitter legacy.

For anyone with a knowledge of history and the national use of power it would be a dreamy condition to think the Chinese in Asia would act differently from the United States in the Western Hemisphere, other big powers in the past, and even Soviet Russia with its satellites now.

It was President Eisenhower who enunciated the falling domino theory: That once communism dominated Viet Nam, its neighbors would topple in time. President Johnson shares the theory, as he shows with his efforts in Viet Nam now.

The Japanese sought Asian domination and as a result drove the British and French out of their colonial holdings on the mainland and tried to eliminate the United States from the Western Pacific.

By their reckoning they could turn it into a Japanese lake. But the Red Chinese would have even stronger reason for attempting the same. They have more than just national ambitions.

Their ideology calls for the spread of communism everywhere until it dominates the world. If words mean anything they must be taken at their word, and they've made it clear worldwide communism is their ambition.

And if the time comes when a new and powerful China tries this, the United States, even though resisting, could hardly condemn it, in view of its own actions in the Western Hemisphere.

When some of the old and original leaders of Chinese communism, like Mao Tze-tung, pass out of the picture and the Chinese society becomes more affluent, the Communist missionary fervor may lose some steam, as it seems to have done in Russia.

But the national interests of Red China will not diminish under a new leadership or under less ideological zeal. They are basic and will remain undiminished, as they have in this country — keep outsiders out.

For these reasons the present U.S. activity in Viet Nam, and its sacrifices and anxieties, intense and important as they seem now, may turn out to be only a minor episode, or even an intermission, before the big act.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

"The 34 doctors who tested our products said it was no good! . . . However, we can still advertise it as tested by leading doctors!"

Time For Unity

By David Lawrence

Critics Of Viet Policy Weaken U.S. Position

How can the United States government convince Red China that there will be no retreat or withdrawal of America's armed forces from South Viet Nam until the people of that country are assured of an uninhibited opportunity for self-determination?

David Lawrence

President Johnson has said many times that the United States is in earnest and will patiently pursue its objectives, even though this may require many years. Is he getting his message across?

"Let none anywhere falsely assume," said the President the other day, "that the debate freedom permits reflects division on the decisions and decisiveness which duty to freedom may require. The community of free men is a community united — and so it shall remain until peace on this earth is sure and safe."

Despite what the President says, however, there are here and abroad captious critics and conscientious opponents of his policies whose objections are given a prominence that is out of proportion to their true significance.

This encourages the Communist Chinese to believe that if they stick to their present strategy long enough and hold on indefinitely, the United States government will grow tired and will eventually find a face-saving device, by means of negotiation, which will be actually equivalent to withdrawal.

UNFORTUNATELY there are precedents which indicate that the United States has not always pursued a conflict to the point of victory or to the attainment even of military objectives. The Korean War, for instance, was ended in 1953 by an armistice which to this day has not been formalized by a peace treaty. The peoples of Korea today are ruled by two governments — a Communist regime in the north and a republic in the south.

The Communist Chinese for years have dominated North Korea and the biggest mistake the United States made during the Korean War was to limit its military operations and refrain from bombing Chinese bases from which supplies, equipment and troops were sent to carry on the war against the collective forces of the United Nations in Korea.

The U.N. is not involved today in the Viet Nam situation, but there are many persons who are constantly calling for the world organization to participate.

It's in reality, however, a frustrated instrumentality.

The Communists have infiltrated many of the member countries and are able today to command a majority in the general assembly and to exercise a veto in the Security Council, so that there is little opportunity for the U.N. to take action toward a durable peace. This unpleasant fact is ignored by most of the proponents of U.N. intervention in the Viet Nam controversy.

THE UNITED STATES, therefore, now really is testing how far an individual nation can go in seeking to achieve peace and to assure the independence of smaller countries so that they will not be invaded by powerful neighbors and deprived of their liberties. The goal of America is just as idealistic as it was in World War I, World War II and the Korean War.

The argument being made by the isolationists and the neo-isolationists is that the United States cannot possibly win in Asia and that hence the best thing to do is to surrender through "negotiations" but the American government has found that the signing of peace treaties, cease-fire agreements and negotiated settlements has often failed.

If the Red Chinese could be really convinced that the United States will stay in Viet Nam indefinitely — that its military forces will continue to protect the people of South Viet Nam even if it takes five or ten years — there might be a different story to tell.

The path of the Johnson administration is being made more and more difficult by the obvious attitude of appeasement displayed by some important newspapers as well as by various members of Congress. This handicaps the President of the United States and gives aid and comfort to the Red Chinese.

American public opinion has not been fully informed as to the reason why a war in Viet Nam is directly related to the safety of the United States itself.

ANY WAR is unpopular, but a relatively small war in Viet Nam today can save the American people from a big war in years to come. What is being done in Viet Nam by American troops and by American policies is to emphasize the resoluteness and firmness of this country's intention to defend the weaker peoples of the world against aggressors and invaders, against infiltrators and subversive agencies.

The failure of the United Nations to keep the peace has placed upon the shoulders of the United States government a tremendous burden.

Thus far the President of the United States has not faltered. He is determined to deter the Red Chinese from committing further aggressions. It's unfortunate that the Viet Nam war is being prolonged by the encouragement unwittingly given the Red Chinese by American critics of their own government's policy.

We have no particular prejudice against hitchhikers. In fact the writer of this opinion piece was a hitchhiker himself in his younger days, which were when the Model T was in full swing and highways were not clogged and dangerous for thumbers of free rides.

IT'S A DIFFERENT STORY now. It has proved too often dangerous for a kind-hearted motorist to pick up a hitchhiker who might rob him or sue him.

It is dangerous, too, for the hitchhiker to risk being hit by a fast vehicle or for him to slow one vehicle at the peril of being banged into from behind.

The idea behind the new law barring hitchhikers from expressways is safety. High-speed freeways are no place for vehicles to be stopped by thumbers or anyone else.

ANOTHER PART of the legislation we ardently like is a Senate amendment which would prohibit slow-moving vehicles from using expressways.

Because of them, two lanes of traffic sometimes are backed up for a mile or more behind a vehicle incapable of traveling faster than 35 miles an hour. The resultant attempts to weave in and out to get around the slowpoke are extremely dangerous.

Slow vehicles should use 35-m.p.h. city streets—not 60-m.p.h. and 70-m.p.h. expressways.

We hope the Senate amendment prevails and the measure soon becomes law so it can be enforced for the safety of all.

The Nighthawks

When Joe Sanders died in the Veterans Hospital at Kansas City last Friday, he was 68. Who remembers Joe Sanders? Who was Joe Sanders?

He was the Sanders of the Coon-Sanders Band, first dance orchestra in the United States to play on a regularly scheduled radio program. The orchestra played in the Muehlbach Hotel in Kansas City. The program was known as the "Nighthawks."

Back there in the primitive era of radio, you fiddled with the controls late at night in the hope of hearing dance music. If you finally zeroed in on the "Nighthawks" you woke up the family to share this fantastic miracle of electronics.

No one could understand how it was possible. You looked at the map to see how far away Kansas City was and shook your head in disbelief. All that distance? And coming in as clearly as if it were across the street!

The Coon-Sanders band became famous through radio. Later, it toured the country on its broadcast fame. Carleton Coon died in 1932.

No account of radio's early days is complete without the Coon-Sanders contribution to its pioneer period—the era of the battery, the loudspeaker as big as a washtub and the thrill of bringing in music all the way from Kansas City. Imagine!

It Takes Time

By Truman Twill

They're calling it the "new left"—all this milling around by college students who are giving fits to their elders.

The elders are scared of it.

They're more scared than they were when college kids were moping around and sniveling about being the "beat generation."

The trouble then was, nobody gave a whoop. Young men were dull-eyed about the whole thing. Young ladies didn't care, either.

Suddenly, action took the place of apathy. Students in the United States began to act like students have been notorious for acting everywhere else. They began to think of themselves as involved in the issues of the day.

No one can explain it.

There's the easy explanation that Communists are behind it all, but it's too easy.

Communists are willing an able to exploit it, as they're willing and able to fish in troubled waters wherever they can drop a Communist line.

There's more to it than agitators moving in to take advantage of something already started.

Couldn't it be that the explanation is lying in plain sight on every college campus in the United States?

Couldn't it be that the upsurge in college enrollment—the post Sputnik attempt to get more young Americans enrolled in college—tells the story?

Gone forever is the sedate, cloistered atmosphere of the traditional ivy-covered halls of learning—the leisurely pace of character-molding under the patient, living hands of Mr. Chips and associates.

With us now is mass education that has pulled into the vortex of learning tens of thousands of students being whirled dizzy by the academic egg-beater.

The old school tie and grandpappy's fraternity affiliation are meaningless to these people. Sitting at the feet of a revered professor on some hallowed ground of Academia is not what they are thinking about.

Their idea is to get with it because they know they're mixed up in it.

But, being young and full of bravado, they know nothing about caution. When they try to get with it, they can think of nothing to do but demonstrate.

They mill around—

Scaring their elders into a cold sweat;

Drawing the opprobrium of critics who think the American young should be seen and not heard—and seen just as infrequently as possible;

Shooting off their mouths . . . and picketing . . . and sitting . . . down . . . and standing up.

Why don't they grow up? Well, for one thing, it takes time.

For another thing, it takes understanding on the part of grownups, who did their growing up during marathon dancing, goldfish eating, hip flasking, toss-potting and various and sundry darned fool activities of another era.

It's Hard To Understand!

The Role Of The Opposition

By Raymond Moley

The English-speaking nations have come to take two-party government so much for granted that most of us fail to realize how relatively recently it originated. But the concept of two parties—one holding the power of government, and the other seeking that power—really originated 200 years ago.

Edmund Burke, who never headed a British government or party, and who held no public office except for a short time, was the originator and spokesman for party government in England.

The written landmark of this development, which means so much in the history of liberty, was a pamphlet which Burke wrote in 1768 and which was published in early 1769. It was called "Observations on a Late Publication intituled (sic) 'The President State of the Nation.'"

WHEN BURKE wrote this pamphlet, politics in England was in a period of transition. The great days of the older William Pitt had passed and the old man had become the Earl of Chatham.

Leadership in the House of Commons passed from one to another. Meanwhile, George II, who in his best days was a very capable monarch and politician, was determined to create one-party rule under Royal authority.

Burke was just emerging as a force in the Commons, and he attached himself to the Whig group headed by the Earl of Rockingham, which for a few months had held office three years before.

The king, who had unlimited patronage and favors to dispense, settled himself in power for 15 years.

During most of this period his obedient prime minister was Lord North, whose baleful place in history was earned because his blundering government lost the richest of all British possessions, the American Colonies.

Burke, the intellectual guide and spokesman for Rockingham's party, was determined that opposition to the King's government should be strong and consistent, despite the grave emergency reated by the armed warfare in America and later by war with France.

THE POWER of the king to break into a minority opposition was very great. For he was the dispenser of incalculable inducements to leading Rockingham Whigs, from Cabinet posts to outright bribery.

In a monumental new biography, "Burke and the Nature of Politics," by Carl B. Cone of the University of Kentucky, there is a summary of Burke's belief in the necessity of opposition:

"Burke's 'Observations' summarized his developing thought about politics and party. As he had been doing on the floor of the Commons, Burke pleaded the cause, not only of his party, but of party government in general. His pamphlet contains glimpses of a new idea in English politics. A political party out of office should oppose the administration, not in a factious spirit, but in order to insure good government. . . .

By 1769 Burke had advanced farther toward an appreciation of one of the essentials of cabinet government, namely, the strategic importance of political parties, than most members of his political generation would in their lifetimes. But his understanding was still incomplete; it would continue to mature during the coming year, and then he would be ready to explain to his contemporaries and to posterity the nature and proper function of political parties."

FOR 12 YEARS Burke held his party together. For there was plenty to say in opposition. There were great impediments to commerce — the very life of England—created by bad laws and administration. The machinery of administration was sorely in need of reform. Government finances were in deplorable shape. Corruption prevailed not only in English government but through private exploitation in India.

On all these Burke spoke and wrote not only with incomparable eloquence but with a wealth of hard-won detail. Finally, after the loss of the American war, Rockingham came to power for a short period. Rockingham died, and the younger Pitt took over.

There is a good deal that Republicans might learn from this history. Opposition is never so necessary as when it is small in numbers.

Between Acts

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Do you ever get the feeling that at this moment you're standing in the lobby of history, just chewing the fat, between acts in one of the great dramas?

The world now is in the period between the Red Chinese conquest of their poverty-ridden land in 1949 and the time less than a decade away when they will have H-bombs and can deliver them.

It is not stretching the imagination to think Red China will in time try to dominate all Southeast Asia, or all Asia. Just remember the attitude of the United States toward Latin America, past and present.

The Red Chinese would run contrary to the nature of nations and their own nature if, once they had the power, they did less than try to exclude the influence of the West from Asia where its colonialism has left a bitter legacy.

For anyone with a knowledge of history and the national use of power it would be a dreamy condition to think the Chinese in Asia would act differently from the United States in the Western Hemisphere, other big powers in the past, and even Soviet Russia with its satellites now.

It was President Eisenhower who enunciated the falling domino theory: That once communism dominated Viet Nam, its neighbors would topple in time. President Johnson shares the theory, as he shows with his efforts in Viet Nam now.

The Japanese sought Asian domination and as a result drove the British and French out of their colonial holdings on the mainland and tried to eliminate the United States from the Western Pacific.

By their reckoning they could turn it into a Japanese lake. But the Red Chinese would have even stronger reason for attempting the same. They have more than just national ambitions.

Their ideology calls for the spread of communism everywhere until it dominates the world. If words mean anything they must be taken at their word, and they've made it clear worldwide communism is their ambition.

And if the time comes when a new and powerful China tries this, the United States, even though resisting, could hardly condemn it, in view of its own actions in the Western Hemisphere.

When some of the old and original leaders of Chinese communism, like Mao Tze-tung, pass out of the picture and the Chinese society becomes more affluent, the Communist missionary fervor may lose some steam, as it seems to have done in Russia.

But the national interests of Red China will not diminish under a new leadership or under less ideological zeal. They are basic and will remain undiminished, as they have in this country — keep outsiders out.

For these reasons the present U.S. activity in Viet Nam, and its sacrifices and anxieties, intense and important as they seem now, may turn out to be only a minor episode, or even an intermission, before the big act.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

"The 34 doctors who tested our products said it was no good! . . . However, we can still advertise it as tested by leading doctors!"

Time For Unity

By David Lawrence

Critics Of Viet Policy Weaken U.S. Position

How can the United States government convince Red China that there will be no retreat or withdrawal of America's armed forces from South Viet Nam until the people of that country are assured of an uninhibited opportunity for self - determination?

David Lawrence

President Johnson has said many times that the United States is in earnest and will patiently pursue its objectives, even though this may require many years. Is he getting his message across?

"Let none anywhere falsely assume," said the President the other day, "that the debate freedom permits reflects division on the decisions and decisiveness which duty to freedom may require. The community of free men is a community united — and so it shall remain until peace on this earth is sure and safe."

Despite what the President says, however, there are here and abroad captious critics and conscientious opponents of his policies whose objections are given a prominence that is out of proportion to their true significance.

This encourages the Communist Chinese to believe that if they stick to their present strategy long enough and hold on indefinitely, the United States government will grow tired and will eventually find a face-saving device, by means of negotiation, which will be actually equivalent to withdrawal.

UNFORTUNATELY there are precedents which indicate that the United States has not always pursued a conflict to the point of victory or to the attainment even of military objectives. The Korean War, for instance, was ended in 1953 by an armistice which to this day has not been formalized by a peace treaty. The peoples of Korea today are ruled by two governments — a Communist regime in the north and a republic in the south.

The Communist Chinese for years have dominated North Korea and the biggest mistake the United States made during the Korean War was to limit its military operations and refrain from bombing Chinese bases from which supplies, equipment and troops were sent to carry on the war against the collective forces of the United Nations in Korea.

The U.N. is not involved today in the Viet Nam situation, but there are many persons who are constantly calling for the world organization to participate.

It's in reality, however, a frustrated instrumentality.

The Communists have infiltrated many of the member countries and are able today to command a majority in the general assembly and to exercise a veto in the Security Council, so that there is little opportunity for the U.N. to take action toward a durable peace. This unpleasant fact is ignored by most of the proponents of U.N. intervention in the Viet Nam controversy.

THE UNITED STATES, therefore, now really is testing how far an individual nation can go in seeking to achieve peace and to assure the independence of smaller countries so that they will not be invaded by powerful neighbors and deprived of their liberties. The goal of America is just as idealistic as it was in World War I, World War II and the Korean War.

The argument being made by the isolationists and the neo-isolationists is that the United States cannot possibly win in Asia and that hence the best thing to do is to surrender through "negotiations" but the American government has found that the signing of peace treaties, cease-fire agreements and negotiated settlements has often failed.

If the Red Chinese could be really convinced that the United States will stay in Viet Nam indefinitely — that its military forces will continue to protect the people of South Viet Nam even if it takes five or ten years — there might be a different story to tell.

The path of the Johnson administration is being made more and more difficult by the obvious attitude of appeasement displayed by some important newspapers as well as by various members of Congress. This handicaps the President of the United States and gives aid and comfort to the Red Chinese.

American public opinion has not been fully informed as to the reason why a war in Viet Nam is directly related to the safety of the United States itself.

ANY WAR is unpopular, but a relatively small war in Viet Nam today can save the American people from a big war in years to come. What is being done in Viet Nam by American troops and by American policies is to emphasize the resoluteness and firmness of this country's intention to defend the weaker peoples of the world against aggressors and invaders, against infiltrators and subversive agencies.

The failure of the United Nations to keep the peace has placed upon the shoulders of the United States government a tremendous burden.

Thus far the President of the United States has not faltered. He is determined to deter the Red Chinese from committing further aggressions. It's unfortunate that the Viet Nam war is being prolonged by the encouragement unwittingly given the Red Chinese by American critics of their own government's policy.

Crew To End Work On New Flood Gauge

A State Highway Department crew expects to complete work this afternoon or Monday at the latest on installation of a new Ohio River gauge on a pier of the East Liverpool - Chester Bridge.

The gauge will be used to supply information locally on the river's stage during flood threats and the readings will be relayed to the Federal - State Flood Forecasting Service at Pittsburgh. The state's five-man crew started work on the job Thursday.

Forty feet of 2-x-12-inch lumber will be attached in a vertical position parallel with the edge of the shoreward pier of the state-owned span. A piece of heavy angle iron has been welded onto the under-structure of the bridge above the pier to serve as the principal support of the gauge.

The crew will drill holes into the stonework of the pier at three other points and attach metal supports that will help keep the gauge from swaying.

Readings on the gauge will be graduated in tenths of a foot from zero to 30 feet. The digit 0 will be adjusted so that it touches the water when the river is at exact pool stage. The last six inches of the gauge will be under water at pool stage. The crew checked yesterday at 2 p. m. and determined that the river was at its exact pool stage at that time.

All readings above zero will indicate the river is at that point above pool stage. For instance, if the water stands at the three-foot mark on the gauge, it will mean that the river is three feet above pool stage.

The East Liverpool area has been without a reliable local reading on river stages since razing of old Dam 8 near Newell. In the interim, the only other readings have been available from locks far upstream and far downstream — Montgomery Dam at Ohio View and the Stratton dam.

Conference Reports Heard By Rotarians

Reports on the Rotary District 730 conference held in Bedford this month featured the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday night at the New Riviera.

Patrol Reports 2 District Mishaps

No one was injured in two district traffic mishaps Thursday — one in which a car damaged a house north of Lisbon, the other on the Y. & O. Rd.— the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Edward Howard Hein, 53, of Leetonia R.D. 1 struck a house owned by William Koffel of Lisbon R. D. 5 along Route 164 when Hein swerved to avoid a collision with a boy on a bike.

Officers said Hein was headed north about a mile from Lisbon when Phillip Andric, 11, son of Carl Andric of Adams Rd., made a left turn in front of his 1957 coach about 5 p. m.

Hein's car went off the left side of the road without hitting the bike and struck the house.

Charles Alfred Pritchett, 75, of 1026 Bradshaw Ave. was cited after his car hit the rear of a truck on the Y. & O. Rd. about a half mile north of Route 30 at 4:45 p. m.

The truck operated by James Rupert Cunningham, 18, of Cornell Ave., was moving at a slow speed when Pritchett's 1962 sedan hit the rear of it, officers said.

Pritchett was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Salary Boosts Approved At Health Board Session

Salary increases of $40 a month, the same amount granted other city employes by City Council, were approved Thursday night by the Board of Health at its meeting at City Hall.

The board voted to send a letter to Council requesting the $40 increase for Gene Smith and Jack Bonner, sanitarians, Miss Selma Ladzinske, public health nurse, and Mrs. Luella Bevan, office clerk and registrar of vital statistics.

It also approved a $10-a-month increase for Howard Claypool, who serves as board clerk, a part-time position.

The present pay schedule with the new schedule in parentheses is:

The X-ray service will be free. It is supported by the purchase of Christmas seals.

It was announced the board is seeking a registered nurse to work the first two weeks of July. Any nurse interested has been asked to contact the board prior to June 17.

Bonner reported on a school he is attending in Columbus. The subjects being covered are bacteriology, food service inspections, sewage and water pollution.

He and Smith will attend a workshop for sanitarians June 16-17 in Canton.

Crew To End Work On New Flood Gauge

A State Highway Department crew expects to complete work this afternoon or Monday at the latest on installation of a new Ohio River gauge on a pier of the East Liverpool - Chester Bridge.

The gauge will be used to supply information locally on the river's stage during flood threats and the readings will be relayed to the Federal - State Flood Forecasting Service at Pittsburgh. The state's five-man crew started work on the job Thursday.

Forty feet of 2-x-12-inch lumber will be attached in a vertical position parallel with the edge of the shoreward pier of the state-owned span. A piece of heavy angle iron has been welded onto the under-structure of the bridge above the pier to serve as the principal support of the gauge.

The crew will drill holes into the stonework of the pier at three other points and attach metal supports that will help keep the gauge from swaying.

Readings on the gauge will be graduated in tenths of a foot from zero to 30 feet. The digit 0 will be adjusted so that it touches the water when the river is at exact pool stage. The last six inches of the gauge will be under water at pool stage. The crew checked yesterday at 2 p. m. and determined that the river was at its exact pool stage at that time.

All readings above zero will indicate the river is at that point above pool stage. For instance, if the water stands at the three-foot mark on the gauge, it will mean that the river is three feet above pool stage.

The East Liverpool area has been without a reliable local reading on river stages since razing of old Dam 8 near Newell. In the interim, the only other readings have been available from locks far upstream and far downstream — Montgomery Dam at Ohio View and the Stratton dam.

Patrol Reports 2 District Mishaps

No one was injured in two district traffic mishaps Thursday — one in which a car damaged a house north of Lisbon, the other on the Y. & O. Rd.— the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Edward Howard Hein, 53, of Leetonia R.D. 1 struck a house owned by William Koffel of Lisbon R. D. 5 along Route 164 when Hein swerved to avoid a collision with a boy on a bike.

Officers said Hein was headed north about a mile from Lisbon when Phillip Andric, 11, son of Carl Andric of Adams Rd., made a left turn in front of his 1957 coach about 5 p. m.

Hein's car went off the left side of the road without hitting the bike and struck the house.

Charles Alfred Pritchett, 75, of 1026 Bradshaw Ave. was cited after his car hit the rear of a truck on the Y. & O. Rd. about a half mile north of Route 30 at 4:45 p. m.

The truck operated by James Rupert Cunningham, 18, of Cornell Ave., was moving at a slow speed when Pritchett's 1962 sedan hit the rear of it, officers said.

Pritchett was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Almost one half of the American veterans went to college after World War II on the famous G. I. Bill of Rights.

TWO OF A KIND —both businessmen

Your newspaperboy son has much in common with the appliance dealer down the street. Both are independent businessmen, succeeding through their own individual efforts under the free enterprise system. Both buy their wares at wholesale and sell them at retail, making a profit through good salesmanship, customer service, and sound business practices. Both know that effort and ability are their own reward, and that true success comes only through work.

So much do these two have in common that it is not unusual for businessmen everywhere to give valuable advice and assistance to newspaperboys, encouraging them to make the most of their opportunities to grow and advance. And it is the adult businessman who recognizes the practical value of this experience when the ex-newspaperboy goes out looking for his first job.

Your newspaperboy son and the successful businessman are two of a kind. This nation could not get along without either of them!

TWO OF A KIND —both businessmen

Your newspaperboy son has much in common with the appliance dealer down the street. Both are independent businessmen, succeeding through their own individual efforts under the free enterprise system. Both buy their wares at wholesale and sell them at retail, making a profit through good salesmanship, customer service, and sound business practices. Both know that effort and ability are their own reward, and that true success comes only through work.

So much do these two have in common that it is not unusual for businessmen everywhere to give valuable advice and assistance to newspaperboys, encouraging them to make the most of their opportunities to grow and advance. And it is the adult businessman who recognizes the practical value of this experience when the ex-newspaperboy goes out looking for his first job.

Your newspaperboy son and the successful businessman are two of a kind. This nation could not get along without either of them!

with a NEWSPAPER BUSINESS of his own and his parents behind him a GREAT FUTURE lies ahead

Objectives Of Legion Reviewed At Banquet

"The American Legion is the most successful of veterans' organizations because of what it stands for," Donald Gruenbaum of Marysville, immediate past commander of the Ohio Legion, told some 100 members of American Legion Post 4 and guests at the annual birthday dinner Wednesday night at St. Aloysius School.

The Legion's four basic principles are Americanism, child welfare, veterans' rehabilitation and national security, the audience was told by Gruenbaum, who also is alternate national committeeman from Ohio and a research technician for the O. M. Scott Seed Co.

He reviewed the founding of the Legion, discussed the programs and services which it has sponsored and cited the importance of the Auxiliary in reaching the Legion's objectives.

Gruenbaum closed his address by reciting "The American Creed." He was introduced by Ernest Lowe, a past commander.

The "China Belles" quartet sang several selections before and after dinner.

Those introduced included past commanders, Mrs. Leona Swiger, Auxiliary president; Joseph Reed, county service officer, and widows of nine members who have died since the post launched its death benefit fund in 1953.

Charles B. Boso, commander, presided and the flag pledge was led by Dave Sakol. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Summer Program Outlined By Hancock College Branch

The Hancock County Branch of West Liberty State College will offer its first summer program this year.

According to Thomas C. Shields Jr., the director, the summer session, which has been arranged in an agreement between the Board of Education of Hancock County and college officials, will begin on June 14 and run through Aug. 13.

Shields said that, in order to serve the greatest possible portion of the population all classes will be held in the late afternoon and evening.

Although this first summer session includes only a limited offering of courses, they have been chosen to fullfill the requirements of almost any curriculum and have been chosen according to student request.

All courses will carry three hour credit and are transferable to other colleges and universities because of West Liberty's accreditation. Regular tuition at the branch is $17 per credit hour, which means that any one course will cost $51, plus books.

The schedule for the summer session is made up of six classes, each meeting for two-hour sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. It includes: English 101, Freshman English, from 4 to 6; English 203, English Literature, from 6:30 to 8:30; Psychology 201, General Psychology, from 6 to 8; Accounting 223, Principals of Accounting II, from 6 to 8; History 103, Western Civilization I, from 6:30 to 8:30; Political Science 201, National Government, from 4 to 6.

Any student planning to attend the summer session must be regularly admitted to the college and must have a transcript of his or her high school or previous college experience on file at the branch college office.

Any questions may be answered by calling the branch college office at 748-7608 between 9:30 a. m. and 9 p. m.

The Legion's four basic principles are Americanism, child welfare, veterans' rehabilitation and national security, the audience was told by Gruenbaum, who also is alternate national committeeman from Ohio and a research technician for the O. M. Scott Seed Co.

The "China Belles" quartet sang several selections before and after dinner.

Those introduced included past commanders, Mrs. Leona Swiger, Auxiliary president; Joseph Reed, county service officer, and widows of nine members who have died since the post launched its death benefit fund in 1953.

Summer Program Outlined By Hancock College Branch

The Hancock County Branch of West Liberty State College will offer its first summer program this year.

According to Thomas C. Shields Jr., the director, the summer session, which has been arranged in an agreement between the Board of Education of Hancock County and college officials, will begin on June 14 and run through Aug. 13.

Shields said that, in order to serve the greatest possible portion of the population all classes will be held in the late afternoon and evening.

Although this first summer session includes only a limited offering of courses, they have been chosen to fullfill the requirements of almost any curriculum and have been chosen according to student request.

All courses will carry three hour credit and are transferable to other colleges and universities because of West Liberty's accreditation. Regular tuition at the branch is $17 per credit hour, which means that any one course will cost $51, plus books.

The schedule for the summer session is made up of six classes, each meeting for two-hour sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. It includes: English 101, Freshman English, from 4 to 6; English 203, English Literature, from 6:30 to 8:30; Psychology 201, General Psychology, from 6 to 8; Accounting 223, Principals of Accounting II, from 6 to 8; History 103, Western Civilization I, from 6:30 to 8:30; Political Science 201, National Government, from 4 to 6.

Any student planning to attend the summer session must be regularly admitted to the college and must have a transcript of his or her high school or previous college experience on file at the branch college office.

Any questions may be answered by calling the branch college office at 748-7608 between 9:30 a. m. and 9 p. m.

County Medical Auxiliary Honors Past Presidents

Past presidents were presented with charms during the annual "Rose Luncheon" of the Women's Auxiliary to the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday afternoon at The Holiday House near Youngstown. More than 100 attended.

Mrs. William J. Horger, center, a member of the program committee, presents the "remembrance" to Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon, the organizing president, as Mrs. Charles A. Gerace, retiring president, looks on.

Others who received charms were Mrs. C. W. DeWalt of Columbiana, another past president, and Mrs. A. S. Fisher.

A tribute was paid to Mrs. McCutcheon, wife of the late Dr. McCutcheon, who was radiologist at City Hospital. She was cited as the organizing president in 1941 and originator of the Rose Luncheon which began in 1942.

In other community activities, she received the "Woman of the Year" award presented in 1952 by the Business and Professional Women's Club. She organized the Coterie Club and the East Liverpool Women's Club, both of which have marked their 25th anniversaries.

She served as president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs in 1936 and Middle East District president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs in 1954. She is a member of the Monday Literary Club.

Mrs. McCutcheon is a past regent of Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She has two sons, Brig. Gen. Keith McCutcheon of the Marine Corps, presently in Viet Nam, and John McCutcheon, a civil engineer working for the University of Pittsburgh department of grounds and buildings.

During the business session, Mrs. Gerace presented the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. Wade Bacon of Lisbon.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Joseph Pandatnik of Youngstown, president of the Mahoning County Auxiliary; Mrs. Duane Banks, Akron, director of District 6, and Mrs. Paul Sauvageot, Akron, editor of the Ohio Medical Auxiliary News.

Miss Esther Hamilton, who writes a daily column in the Youngstown Vindicator, was guest speaker. She conducted a question-and-answer period concerning her life as a newspaper reporter.

Following the presentation of a gift of money, Miss Hamilton asked that the check be sent to "Alias Santa Claus," an area project for the needy.

The tables were decorated with spring flowers and terrain arrangements in brandy snifters. Places were marked by booklets of favorite recipes of the members.

County Medical Auxiliary Honors Past Presidents

Past presidents were presented with charms during the annual "Rose Luncheon" of the Women's Auxiliary to the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday afternoon at The Holiday House near Youngstown. More than 100 attended.

Mrs. William J. Horger, center, a member of the program committee, presents the "remembrance" to Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon, the organizing president, as Mrs. Charles A. Gerace, retiring president, looks on.

Others who received charms were Mrs. C. W. DeWalt of Columbiana, another past president, and Mrs. A. S. Fisher.

A tribute was paid to Mrs. McCutcheon, wife of the late Dr. McCutcheon, who was radiologist at City Hospital. She was cited as the organizing president in 1941 and originator of the Rose Luncheon which began in 1942.

In other community activities, she received the "Woman of the Year" award presented in 1952 by the Business and Professional Women's Club. She organized the Coterie Club and the East Liverpool Women's Club, both of which have marked their 25th anniversaries.

She served as president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs in 1936 and Middle East District president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs in 1954. She is a member of the Monday Literary Club.

Mrs. McCutcheon is a past regent of Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She has two sons, Brig. Gen. Keith McCutcheon of the Marine Corps, presently in Viet Nam, and John McCutcheon, a civil engineer working for the University of Pittsburgh department of grounds and buildings.

During the business session, Mrs. Gerace presented the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. Wade Bacon of Lisbon.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Joseph Pandatnik of Youngstown, president of the Mahoning County Auxiliary; Mrs. Duane Banks, Akron, director of District 6, and Mrs. Paul Sauvageot, Akron, editor of the Ohio Medical Auxiliary News.

Miss Esther Hamilton, who writes a daily column in the Youngstown Vindicator, was guest speaker. She conducted a question-and-answer period concerning her life as a newspaper reporter.

Following the presentation of a gift of money, Miss Hamilton asked that the check be sent to "Alias Santa Claus," an area project for the needy.

The tables were decorated with spring flowers and terrain arrangements in brandy snifters. Places were marked by booklets of favorite recipes of the members.

Hancock Gets $17,441 For School Work

Robert Hall, superintendent of Hancock County schools, has been notified that a federal grant of $17,441 for "Project Headstart" has been approved.

The Hancock County Board of Education submitted a budget of $21,250 at a meeting April 12.

Hall said approximately 125 children in the county will be eligible to attend the eight-week "Project Headstart" summer classes.

To be eligible, children must come from families whose income is less than $3,000 a year and must be starting their first year of school. The program is strictly voluntary.

Under it, children will attend one of three centers to be set up and administered by both paid teachers and voluntary workers.

Present plans call for centers at Weirton, New Cumberland and the Newell - Chester area.

Each class will consist of 15 youngsters, one paid teacher and three volunteers.

"Project Headstart" will be financed 90 per cent by the federal government, with the remainder handled by state and local funds.

two or three weeks. The overall cost of the Pennsylvania Ave. work is estimated at about $50,000, with the city's share anticipated at about $10,800.

Detailed reports on the costs of the Lisbon St. project were explained to Council Jan. 14 by the Highway Department. The overall cost is estimated at $200,000. The city's share will be approximately $40,000. Council set up $20,000 of the city's share in the annual appropriation ordinance approved in late March.

The Lisbon St. project is slated tentatively for 1966. Vodrey said the Highway Department estimated six to nine months will be required to complete the plans.

Plans also are advancing for a third major local project in cooperation with the state. It's an auto-pedestrian ramp to tie together the two sections of W. 9th St. made into a dead-end with construction of the California Hollow-West End Freeway.

Council has appropriated $12,500 as the city's full share of the job, estimated to cost $275,000 in all. The Federal Bureau of Public Roads will help finance the project, as it had a share in the cost of the freeway link.

2 Sentenced; One To Face Another Trial

LISBON — A Wellsville man sentenced Thursday to 1 to 15 years in the Ohio Penitentiary for burglary faces another trial here Monday — this time on a charge of armed robbery.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sentenced Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 23, of 1615 Riverside Ave. for the burglary of Cooper's American Oil Co. station in East Liverpool.

Twelve prospective jurors have been ordered to report Monday morning for the beginning of Hawk's trial on a charge of armed robbery at Betty's Store in Wellsville.

Also sentenced yesterday was James L. Sturgill, 18, of 431 John St., East Liverpool, for auto larceny. He received 1 to 20 years at the Ohio State Reformatory in Mansfield. He also was given a three-month sentence for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

A motion for a new trial and probation investigation was denied by the court before sentencing.

Both Hawk and Sturgill were indicted by the April grand jury.

Prospective jurors for Monday's trial are:

Mary Elizabeth Patterson, R. D. 1, George Vaughn, 752 E. 4th St., Alfred Stockwell, 1152 E. State St., Janet Shears, 976 S. Lincoln Ave., Salem; Mae Twyford, 6th Ave. (LaCroft) and Gwendolyn Neal, 330 E. 9th St., East Liverpool; Paul E. Norris, 511 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon; Donna J. Crosser, Winona; George E. Have you ever dreamed of rubbing Aladdin's lamp, flying on the Magic Carpet and landing in romantic Araby?

The theme, "Arabian Nights," is being carried out by using white-starred blue crepe paper for the sky with a large full moon. The center of attraction will be a large desert scene of tents, camels and palm trees.

The eighth-grade girls chosen to serve — Phyllis Carter, Mary Lou Lough, Carol Morgan, Cathy Morris, Lora Phillips, Debbie Sanford, Sheila Stickler and Sandy Swogger — will be dressed as harem girls in red-and-white striped pantaloons, white long-sleeved blouses, feathered tiaras, harem slippers and dangling jewelry.

Summitville's Council Acts On Bill Payments

SUMMITVILLE — Bills totaling $999 were paid at a meeting of Council Thursday night at the Franklin Township hall.

Mayor Ernest Phillips reported 235 tons of slag have been delivered for the summer road program. Patching of street surfaces has been under way for two weeks, it was announced.

Councilman William Swinger was absent. The next meeting will be June 24.

Andrew Carnegie (1835-1919), a Scottish-born American, gave away approximately $350 million, most of it in support of education, libraries, and world peace movements.

Woodard, D-Summit, and James Holzemer, D-Lucas.

During the hearing, Charles V. Riley, head of KSU's biochemistry department, said he favors several features in Fisher's bill, but said proposed grading of spoil banks and high walls to a "gently rolling surface" is unnecessary in many parts of Ohio.

Charles Atha, president of Blue Crystal Mines in Holmes and Coshocton counties, and Floyd Benedict, vice president of the Benedict Mining Co. in McArthur, objected to proposed increases in performance bond and the per-acre license fee.

The bill calls for increasing the bond from $220 to $325 per acre, doubling the present $10-per-acre license fee.

Larry Cook, executive vice president of the Ohio Reclamation Association, an organization representing most of the state's strip mine operators, repeated his belief the proposed bond increases are unjustified.

Meanwhile, Sargus said he is confident some compromise can be reached to get his bill to the floor.

He said he is mainly interested in restoring a provision which would permit the division chief to deny a license if he "had probable cause" to believe no reclamation was possible in the area.

Sargus also wants the chief to have discretion in raising the $325 performance bond to $650 an acre if he feels it necessary.

To give whipped cream a touch of spice, add ground ginger — ½ teaspoon to 1 cup of cream that has been whipped and sweetened to taste. The ginger cream is delicious as a topping for a pudding.

Judge Fines, Jails Woman

A city woman charged with driving while intoxicated was fined and jailed by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday. Six other drivers were fined.

Georgianna V. Ehrhart of 1916 Lisbon St. was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail for driving while intoxicated. Her license was suspended 90 days.

Paul Edward Bontempt of 1807 Anderson Blvd. was fined $20 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, and Raymond W. Rambo of Carroll Rd. was fined $15 and costs on a similar charge.

A hearing for Ralph W. Smith of Melbourne St., Glenmoor, charged with failure to file for registration and reckless operation, was continued to next Thursday.

Joyce Ann Morrow of 515 E. 6th St., was fined $25 and costs for lack of a driver's license.

Darrell R. Eccleston of 1027 Center St., Wellsville, and Gary Lee Bowersock of Lisbon R. D. 2 were fined $15 and costs for speeding.

Anna Mae Cetor of Negley was fined $15 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Priest Will Mark 50th Year With Services Sunday

LISBON — The Rev. Fr. George N. Stuber, former pastor of St. George Church, now retired, will celebrate 50 years in the priesthood next Sunday with a 10 a.m. Mass at St. Luke's Church in Cleveland. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles McBride, pastor, will preach.

A public reception will be held at 3 p.m. in St. Luke's parish hall.

Fr. Stuber was ordained May 29, 1915, by the Most Rev. John P. Farrelly, bishop of Cleveland, at St. John's Cathedral in Cleveland. Fr. Stuber has been in retirement the last 13 years due to poor health.

Fr. Stuber was appointed pastor of St. George Church, with St. Agatha of West Point as a mission, Sept. 18, 1924, succeeding Msgr. Clement Boeke. He remained as pastor here until Oct. 8, 1925, when he was named pastor of St. Mary's Church in Bedford.

It is believed that Fr. Stuber is the first pastor of St. George Church to celebrate his golden jubilee in the priesthood in the 145-year history of the parish.

Steering-Mechanism Test Passed By Saturn

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The Free World's largest rocket booster — the Saturn V — has passed a steering-mechanism test preparatory to a manned flight to the moon.

In a static (tied down) test at the Marshall Space Flight Center Thursday, the booster was at full speed for 41 seconds, much loner than two previous test firings.

Test laboratory personnel called the test highly successful and said the vehicle's five engines achieved the ultimate 7.5 million pounds of thrust.

The average child born today can expect to live about 15 years longer than his counterpart of 60 years ago.

U.P. Eyes Closer Links With Other Christians

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 177th annual General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. turned today to work on means for establishing closer links with other Christians.

Among suggested steps was occasional attendance by Presbyterians at Mass in Roman Catholic parishes.

"The needs of the Church universal in our generation can only be met by Christian people working together," declared a report placed before delegates from across the nation.

William Phelps Thompson, a Wichita, Kan., attorney, took over the gavel, after his election late Thursday as moderator of the 3.5-million-member denomination, its highest titular office.

Further Christian unity was cited as one of his key concerns.

A wide-ranging series of actions to increase interchurch ties was proposed in a report by the church's Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relably entered its second day.

It noted that new associations "of an infinite variety" are developing with Roman Catholics in communities throughout the United States, and urged extension of the trend.

"By God's grace we are being led in our time from prudential tolerance one of the other to genuine brotherhood in the household of faith," the report said.

On the morning's program was a message of greetings by Roman Catholic Bishop John J. Carberry of Columbus. Representatives from a dozen denominations also were present to extend fraternal wishes.

The ecumenical report made a special appeal for renewed efforts for reunion with churches sharing common heritages — the Reformed Church in America and the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Southern).

Past efforts to heal the North-South breach, stemming from Civil War times, have come to naught. The Southern Church has about 938,000 members. The larger United Church also has about 400,000 members in the South.

"We now know that cooperation is not enough," says the plea to the Southern body, recommending that both branches set up panels to make a new try at unification.

"The action will be a venture of faith in God's will and in obedience to the commandment of the Christ that His people be one," the report said. It concluded with a Scripture quotation: "Come now and let us reason, saith the Lord."

In its opening business Thursday, the assembly elected Thompson in a three-way contest in which the other two candidates were clergymen, the Rev. E. G. Montag of Beaver, Pa., and the Rev. W. Sherman Skinner, of St. Louis.

Thompson, 46, an incisive, articulate layman who has served the church in numerous local, regional and national capacities, led from the first, and won on the second ballot.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Edler G. Hawkins of New York.

Man Serving 1-25 Years Due New Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati man serving a 1-25 year prison term is to get a new trial because of a U.S. Supreme Court decision made the day he was convicted of robbery.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond E. Shannon granted the new trial Thursday to Bennie Reed, 32. The new trial was asked in a motion filed by attorney Maury M. Tepper.

The motion was on the ground that the prosecuting attorney and the court commented on the fact that Reed did not take the stand in his own defense when he was convicted April 28. The Supreme Court the same day ruled that the court or prosecutor may not comment on the failure of a defendant to take the stand.

Showdown's Due OSU On Speaker Rule

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of an Ohio State University liberal student group and school administrators were headed for a showdown today over the university's speakers rule.

That is, of course, if the Marxist speaker reportedly due to make a campus appearance this afternoon in defiance of the controversial rule, decides to show up.

Leaders of the Free Speech Front, a student group opposing the speakers rule, insisted that Herbert Aptheker, director of the American Institute for Marxist Studies, would speak on the campus oval today at 4 p.m.

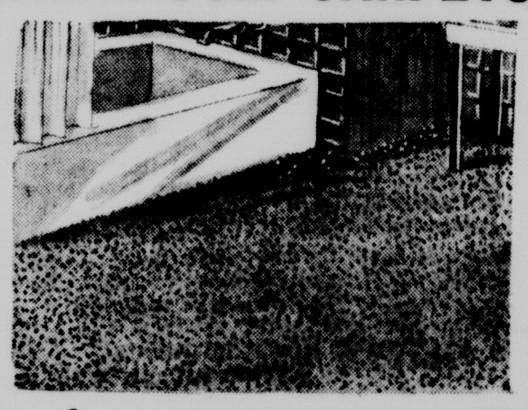

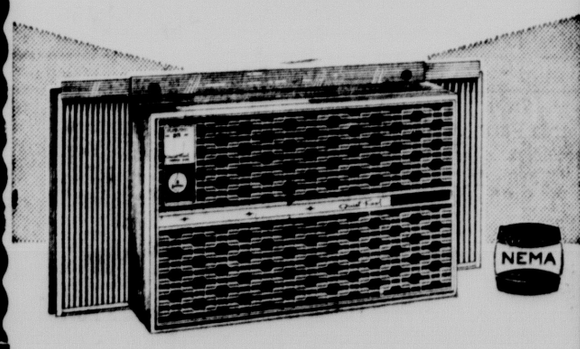

However, there were reports that Aptheker would not show up. He could not be reached for comment but his secretary was quoted in New York as saying: "I haven't seen him, but as far as I know he will not go to Columbus."

Meanwhile, the rebel students were warned by university President Novice G. Fawcett Thursday that they face disciplinary action if Aptheker makes a campus appearance today.

He said the speakers rule, banning subversives and controversial persons from appearing on campus, would be enforced "whether or not there is disorder."

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Crises Put TV News Stars 'On The Spot'

The star system which TV has created in its news departments is proving now a bit embarrassing to at least two of the networks.

Hal Humphrey

If the wars in South Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic are so important, then the question is: Why doesn't CBS send Walter Cronkite and NBC send Huntley and Brinkley to cover them? These three newscasters have been elevated to such stature by their employers that many TV fans consider them oracles, senior grade.

Yet, when CBS and NBC give us on-the-spot reports from Santo Domingo and Viet Nam, we hear from names like Schakne, Quint, Rudd.

-:-

ASKED about this, Fred Friendly (president of CBS News) said he had planned to ship Cronkite to Viet Nam with a mobile unit and beam his reports back via the Syncom III satellite, but that the Japanese refused to let CBS use its ground station.

Meanwhile, Friendly sent Eric Sevareid to Santo Domingo to do some on-the-spot reporting from that area this week and says he will put Cronkite in South Viet Nam as soon as our Gemini-Titan 4 space cruise is completed next month.

Friendly claims the only reason Cronkite hasn't been more mobile before this is the time delay problem in shipping film and getting Cronkite to the spot.

William McAndrew, executive v.p. in charge of NBC News, mentions the same problem and admits he hesitates to break up the Huntley-Brinkley combination for even a day or two "because the two men are a much better audience pull."

-:-

ANOTHER consideration, which neither Friendly nor McAndrew would deny, is the possibility of accident. They are no more willing to spare the star of a show than a nervous movie producer who refuses to let his star do the stunts in a picture.

Sponsors who are laying out big money for that "audience pull" generated by a Huntley-Brinkley or Cronkite aren't keen, either to have their stars off the air a few days while en route to Pakistan or Bien Hoa, South Viet Nam.

Huntley was in London for the first week of the Early Bird satellite, but that was a fairly quick and safe assignment.

Huntley, Brinkley and Cronkite will all be in Houston, Tex., for the Gemini-Titan 4 shot next month, but that's a star commentator's show, and nobody on the ground is likely to get hurt.

-:-

CRONKITE said this week he would like to go to Santo Domingo, but beside the time problems he also mentioned another.

"I hate to go in on another guy's story. How would you feel," he asked, "if you'd been slugging away at a tough assignment, then somebody else comes along to take off the cream?"

In some instances there is a financial consideration for the "stringers" or network correspondents. Many of them are paid by the piece. CBS currently is revising new contracts to put its correspondents on a flat fee basis, but until this is done those correspondents would treat an invading Cronkite like an income tax collector.

-:-

ELMER LOWER, chief of ABC's news department, says he is heartily in favor of his reporters' getting into the field and that their man Peter Jennings does go out frequently.

Of course, at this juncture, ABC has nothing to lose. It has no "star" in the nightly news race (Jennings has had the spot only four months), so no matter where he goes the ABC rating isn't in danger.

From a strictly practical view, there's no doubt that the men already in the field for CBS and NBC know more about the local situation in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo than the Cronkites, Huntleys or Brinkleys.

On the other hand, if the networks are to continue (which no doubt they will) to build star experts in news, then like any movie star they occasionally will be called upon by the fans to do their own stunts.

Neared 1952 Polio Peak

Nearly 51,000 Were Hit By Tuberculosis In 1964

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Tuberculosis, believed by some authorities to be near eradication a decade ago, affected almost as many persons in the United States last year as did polio in 1952 — a peak year for that disease immediately preceding development of polio vaccine.

Because of government concern, the U.S. Public Health Service has joined with Denver's National Jewish Hospital — a charity-supported institution specializing in respiratory diseases — in establishing a tuberculosis training program.

Preliminary figures for 1964 indicate that nearly 51,000 persons contracted new active cases of tuberculosis. The polio incidence in 1952 was under 58,000. The death rate by tuberculosis in 1962 (the most recent official figures) was just over 9,500.

Dr. Thomas Moulding, coordinator of the project at National Jewish Hospital, said today: "It is now apparent from the experience of the last few years, which shows a leveling-off or a slight rise in the rates of new active cases, that rapid elimination of this disease is not likely."

Progress in the 1950s, chiefly in the development of chemotherapeutic outpatient treatment, "almost stopped the flow of new physicians wishing to make careers in the field of TB," Moulding said. Because of these advances, some areas reduced tuberculosis control programs, he said.

Chemotherapy is the intake of antituberculin drugs, usually in pill form. Foremost in a long list of drugs used are streptomycin, an antibiotic, and isoniazid and P.A.S., both chemicals.

Failure to follow the pill-taking regimen after leaving a hospital could result in a relapse, Moulding said.

Some patients become symptom-free, which is deceptive, soon after starting medication, Moulding said. He said that a minimum of 18 months treatment, including up to 30 pills a day, is required.

About 200 specialists have enrolled for courses covering bacteriological, clinical and public health aspects of tuberculosis.

Odd Facts

Michigan State golfer Ken Benson won the Chicago District Golf Association match play title in 1963 and repeated in 1964.

Four National League coaches of last spring are managers this year. They are Dick Sisler, Herman Franks, Luman Harris and Red Schoendienst.

The highest mountains in the United States, east of the Rockies, are the Black Hills of South Dakota, also one of the nation's great tourist attractions.

3 Measures Clear Hurdles In Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Fly-by-night" used car dealers, retiring members of the armed forces, and nursing home operators would be affected by bills which have cleared hurdles in the Ohio Legislature.

The House gave its approval Thursday to measures setting standards for used car dealers and tightening restrictions on nursing homes, while the Senate voted to make retired armed forces veterans eligible for unemployment compensation.

These actions and the offering of two more reapportionment proposals brought down the curtain on the general assembly's 18th work week.

Rep. James L. Metcalf, D-Knox, sponsored the used car dealer measure, which would require paved lots no smaller than 40 by 60 feet and an office with no less than 100 suqare feet of floor space.

Rep. Harry Jump V. Jump, R - Huron, and several other house members presented the nursing home bill, an outgrowth of the Fitchville fire on Nov. 23, 1963, which snuffed out the lives of more than 60 elderly patients.

The bills calls for better coordination between the Health Department, as the licensing agency; the Industrial Relations Department and the State Fire Marshal's office, which are the inspection agencies.

Bipartisan Senate support was given the unemployment compensation measure which, in addition to retired GIs, restores eligibility to laid-off workers who take interim jobs and then return to their original employment.

Sen. Robin Turner R-Seneca, sponsored the bill.

The two new plans to reapportion the House were introduced in the lower chamber, bringing the total in both houses to 13.

One of the latest plans would reapportion the Senate as well as the House. The other, which carries the name of House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan and other Republicans, is a duplicate of one offered earlier in the Senate by Turner.

Other newly approved Senate bills would:

—Permit school boards to sell property to other public entities after failure to sell at two public auctions.

—Increase the minimum financial jurisdiction of common pleas courts from $300 to $500.

—Convey 7.5 acres of land in Kettering to the Kittyhawk Broadcasting Corp. for the site of a new tower.

House action completed legislative action on a proposal to convey one acre of land to the city of Avon in Lorain County for recreational purposes. It now goes to the governor.

The House passed and sent to the Senate measures to:

—Create a central licensing board and require uniform dates for renewal of licenses.

—Allow the state government to cooperate with the state of West Virginia and the federal government in building a bridge on Interstate 70 between Bridgeport and Wheeling Island, W. Va.

Negley Area Youngster Twirls Way To Honors

Warren will be the next stop for Lana Kay Mellington as she looks for new worlds to conquer in the field of baton twirling at competition there on June 5.

Lana, age 4, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mellington of Negley Route 1.

She is no stranger to East Liverpool and area residents, having appeared in parades here on several occasions with the Suzettes Tophats Drill Team of East Palestine.

Lana is carrying the trophy and wearing the cape and crown above as the result of having been crowned "Little Miss Suzette 1965" during the recent Sue Kennedy Zaskey baton show in East Palestine.

She also received a $25 savings bond and other gifts and will ride in a decorated convertible on Memorial Day as "queen."

The young Columbiana County girl already this year has won medals for solo competition and group drilling.

She captured the title of "Miss Suzette" in a contest with other area youngsters, including Miss Paula Thompson of Negley R.D., Miss Melinda Sue Adams of East Palestine and Miss Nancy Young of New Waterford.

Community Told Of Need For Boosting Kent Center

Community interest and encouragement are basic needs for Kent State University's Academic Center which will open Sept. 22 in East Liverpool, the Kiwanis Club was told at its meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Richard Velzy, director of Kent centers at Salem and Warren, said almost 300 students are registered for the start of the new center here.

The center, which will have three quarters during the fall, winter and spring, with classes ending June 10, 1966, will offer district young people and adults upper educational opportunities equivalent to the first two years of college at the Kent main campus.

All course credits will be transferable to Kent or to most other colleges, Velzy emphasized.

He said a full year's tuition and books will cost about $450 to $500, or a saving of $1,000 compared with on-campus education elsewhere "—with the same quality of education."

Among the basic courses to be offered the first year here will be art, economics, education, English, literature, foreign language, sciences, music, management, sociology, psychology, geography, mathematics, history, political science and public speaking. Later the courses will be expanded, Velzy said.

He said the center will need a general enrollment of 200 to form a proper basis for continuation, but he said Salem's center has been operating with about 160 and will continue to do so. He said, "We will remain in East Liverpool, don't worry about that. We'll stay here unless the city evaporates or something."

However, he said the center does need the support of the community.

"The center must have students to operate, and it should be the responsibility of service clubs like Kiwanis and other organizations to encourage students to attend."

The center, he said, should prove beneficial to the community in many ways. It will keep the young people here because they will have the educational opportunities to follow.

Velzy said a college here will help attract and retain good teachers, will aid in improving the labor force and management by educational courses, will provide new and broader cultural programs and offer many other services.

He said local groups also can provide library help and offer scholarships to the center, but basically can show interest and give encouragement.

Velzy was introduced by Robert McNamara, school psychologist and program chairman.

Roy Cooper and Mayor Merrill Hall, chairmen of the club's pancake supper held Saturday at Westgate School, reported about $250 was cleared for youth activity projects.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Crises Put TV News Stars 'On The Spot'

The star system which TV has created in its news departments is proving now a bit embarrassing to at least two of the networks.

Hal Humphrey

If the wars in South Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic are so important, then the question is: Why doesn't CBS send Walter Cronkite and NBC send Huntley and Brinkley to cover them? These three newscasters have been elevated to such stature by their employers that many TV fans consider them oracles, senior grade.

Yet, when CBS and NBC give us on-the-spot reports from Santo Domingo and Viet Nam, we hear from names like Schakne, Quint, Rudd.

-:-

ASKED about this, Fred Friendly (president of CBS News) said he had planned to ship Cronkite to Viet Nam with a mobile unit and beam his reports back via the Syncom III satellite, but that the Japanese refused to let CBS use its ground station.

Meanwhile, Friendly sent Eric Sevareid to Santo Domingo to do some on-the-spot reporting from that area this week and says he will put Cronkite in South Viet Nam as soon as our Gemini-Titan 4 space cruise is completed next month.

Friendly claims the only reason Cronkite hasn't been more mobile before this is the time delay problem in shipping film and getting Cronkite to the spot.

William McAndrew, executive v.p. in charge of NBC News, mentions the same problem and admits he hesitates to break up the Huntley-Brinkley combination for even a day or two "because the two men are a much better audience pull."

-:-

ANOTHER consideration, which neither Friendly nor McAndrew would deny, is the possibility of accident. They are no more willing to spare the star of a show than a nervous movie producer who refuses to let his star do the stunts in a picture.

Sponsors who are laying out big money for that "audience pull" generated by a Huntley-Brinkley or Cronkite aren't keen, either to have their stars off the air a few days while en route to Pakistan or Bien Hoa, South Viet Nam.

Huntley was in London for the first week of the Early Bird satellite, but that was a fairly quick and safe assignment.

Huntley, Brinkley and Cronkite will all be in Houston, Tex., for the Gemini-Titan 4 shot next month, but that's a star commentator's show, and nobody on the ground is likely to get hurt.

-:-

CRONKITE said this week he would like to go to Santo Domingo, but beside the time problems he also mentioned another.

"I hate to go in on another guy's story. How would you feel," he asked, "if you'd been slugging away at a tough assignment, then somebody else comes along to take off the cream?"

In some instances there is a financial consideration for the "stringers" or network correspondents. Many of them are paid by the piece. CBS currently is revising new contracts to put its correspondents on a flat fee basis, but until this is done those correspondents would treat an invading Cronkite like an income tax collector.

-:-

ELMER LOWER, chief of ABC's news department, says he is heartily in favor of his reporters' getting into the field and that their man Peter Jennings does go out frequently.

Of course, at this juncture, ABC has nothing to lose. It has no "star" in the nightly news race (Jennings has had the spot only four months), so no matter where he goes the ABC rating isn't in danger.

From a strictly practical view, there's no doubt that the men already in the field for CBS and NBC know more about the local situation in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo than the Cronkites, Huntleys or Brinkleys.

On the other hand, if the networks are to continue (which no doubt they will) to build star experts in news, then like any movie star they occasionally will be called upon by the fans to do their own stunts.

Neared 1952 Polio Peak

Nearly 51,000 Were Hit By Tuberculosis In 1964

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Tuberculosis, believed by some authorities to be near eradication a decade ago, affected almost as many persons in the United States last year as did polio in 1952 — a peak year for that disease immediately preceding development of polio vaccine.

Because of government concern, the U.S. Public Health Service has joined with Denver's National Jewish Hospital — a charity-supported institution specializing in respiratory diseases — in establishing a tuberculosis training program.

Preliminary figures for 1964 indicate that nearly 51,000 persons contracted new active cases of tuberculosis. The polio incidence in 1952 was under 58,000. The death rate by tuberculosis in 1962 (the most recent official figures) was just over 9,500.

Dr. Thomas Moulding, coordinator of the project at National Jewish Hospital, said today: "It is now apparent from the experience of the last few years, which shows a leveling-off or a slight rise in the rates of new active cases, that rapid elimination of this disease is not likely."

Progress in the 1950s, chiefly in the development of chemotherapeutic outpatient treatment, "almost stopped the flow of new physicians wishing to make careers in the field of TB," Moulding said. Because of these advances, some areas reduced tuberculosis control programs, he said.

Chemotherapy is the intake of antituberculin drugs, usually in pill form. Foremost in a long list of drugs used are streptomycin, an antibiotic, and isoniazid and P.A.S., both chemicals.

Failure to follow the pill-taking regimen after leaving a hospital could result in a relapse, Moulding said.

Some patients become symptom-free, which is deceptive, soon after starting medication, Moulding said. He said that a minimum of 18 months treatment, including up to 30 pills a day, is required.

About 200 specialists have enrolled for courses covering bacteriological, clinical and public health aspects of tuberculosis.

Odd Facts

Michigan State golfer Ken Benson won the Chicago District Golf Association match play title in 1963 and repeated in 1964.

Four National League coaches of last spring are managers this year. They are Dick Sisler, Herman Franks, Luman Harris and Red Schoendienst.

The highest mountains in the United States, east of the Rockies, are the Black Hills of South Dakota, also one of the nation's great tourist attractions.

3 Measures Clear Hurdles In Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Fly-by-night" used car dealers, retiring members of the armed forces, and nursing home operators would be affected by bills which have cleared hurdles in the Ohio Legislature.

The House gave its approval Thursday to measures setting standards for used car dealers and tightening restrictions on nursing homes, while the Senate voted to make retired armed forces veterans eligible for unemployment compensation.

These actions and the offering of two more reapportionment proposals brought down the curtain on the general assembly's 18th work week.

Rep. James L. Metcalf, D-Knox, sponsored the used car dealer measure, which would require paved lots no smaller than 40 by 60 feet and an office with no less than 100 suqare feet of floor space.

Rep. Harry Jump V. Jump, R - Huron, and several other house members presented the nursing home bill, an outgrowth of the Fitchville fire on Nov. 23, 1963, which snuffed out the lives of more than 60 elderly patients.

The bills calls for better coordination between the Health Department, as the licensing agency; the Industrial Relations Department and the State Fire Marshal's office, which are the inspection agencies.

Bipartisan Senate support was given the unemployment compensation measure which, in addition to retired GIs, restores eligibility to laid-off workers who take interim jobs and then return to their original employment.

Sen. Robin Turner R-Seneca, sponsored the bill.

The two new plans to reapportion the House were introduced in the lower chamber, bringing the total in both houses to 13.

One of the latest plans would reapportion the Senate as well as the House. The other, which carries the name of House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan and other Republicans, is a duplicate of one offered earlier in the Senate by Turner.

Other newly approved Senate bills would:

—Permit school boards to sell property to other public entities after failure to sell at two public auctions.

—Increase the minimum financial jurisdiction of common pleas courts from $300 to $500.

—Convey 7.5 acres of land in Kettering to the Kittyhawk Broadcasting Corp. for the site of a new tower.

House action completed legislative action on a proposal to convey one acre of land to the city of Avon in Lorain County for recreational purposes. It now goes to the governor.

The House passed and sent to the Senate measures to:

—Create a central licensing board and require uniform dates for renewal of licenses.

—Allow the state government to cooperate with the state of West Virginia and the federal government in building a bridge on Interstate 70 between Bridgeport and Wheeling Island, W. Va.

Negley Area Youngster Twirls Way To Honors

Warren will be the next stop for Lana Kay Mellington as she looks for new worlds to conquer in the field of baton twirling at competition there on June 5.

Lana, age 4, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mellington of Negley Route 1.

She is no stranger to East Liverpool and area residents, having appeared in parades here on several occasions with the Suzettes Tophats Drill Team of East Palestine.

Lana is carrying the trophy and wearing the cape and crown above as the result of having been crowned "Little Miss Suzette 1965" during the recent Sue Kennedy Zaskey baton show in East Palestine.

She also received a $25 savings bond and other gifts and will ride in a decorated convertible on Memorial Day as "queen."

The young Columbiana County girl already this year has won medals for solo competition and group drilling.

She captured the title of "Miss Suzette" in a contest with other area youngsters, including Miss Paula Thompson of Negley R.D., Miss Melinda Sue Adams of East Palestine and Miss Nancy Young of New Waterford.

Community Told Of Need For Boosting Kent Center

Community interest and encouragement are basic needs for Kent State University's Academic Center which will open Sept. 22 in East Liverpool, the Kiwanis Club was told at its meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Richard Velzy, director of Kent centers at Salem and Warren, said almost 300 students are registered for the start of the new center here.

The center, which will have three quarters during the fall, winter and spring, with classes ending June 10, 1966, will offer district young people and adults upper educational opportunities equivalent to the first two years of college at the Kent main campus.

All course credits will be transferable to Kent or to most other colleges, Velzy emphasized.

He said a full year's tuition and books will cost about $450 to $500, or a saving of $1,000 compared with on-campus education elsewhere "—with the same quality of education."

Among the basic courses to be offered the first year here will be art, economics, education, English, literature, foreign language, sciences, music, management, sociology, psychology, geography, mathematics, history, political science and public speaking. Later the courses will be expanded, Velzy said.

He said the center will need a general enrollment of 200 to form a proper basis for continuation, but he said Salem's center has been operating with about 160 and will continue to do so. He said, "We will remain in East Liverpool, don't worry about that. We'll stay here unless the city evaporates or something."

However, he said the center does need the support of the community.

"The center must have students to operate, and it should be the responsibility of service clubs like Kiwanis and other organizations to encourage students to attend."

The center, he said, should prove beneficial to the community in many ways. It will keep the young people here because they will have the educational opportunities to follow.

Velzy said a college here will help attract and retain good teachers, will aid in improving the labor force and management by educational courses, will provide new and broader cultural programs and offer many other services.

He said local groups also can provide library help and offer scholarships to the center, but basically can show interest and give encouragement.

Velzy was introduced by Robert McNamara, school psychologist and program chairman.

Roy Cooper and Mayor Merrill Hall, chairmen of the club's pancake supper held Saturday at Westgate School, reported about $250 was cleared for youth activity projects.

Man Convicted In Slaying Of Police Officer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eugene W. Duling, 30, accused of killing a Columbus police officer, was convicted of first-degree murder Thursday.

The jury of nine women and three men, returning the verdict after seven hours of deliberation, did not recommend mercy, leaving the death sentence mandatory.

Judge Joseph M. Harder withheld sentencing for three days to allow defense attorneys time to file for a new trial.

Duling was accused of shooting Police Lt. Allen Fraley last Nov. 5 as the officer was investigating a suspected molesting case.

In closing statements Thursday, Duling's defense attorneys declared that testimony they had presented showed that the ex-convict was temporarily insane at the time the fatal shot was fired.

County Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson said the insanity claim was a "cover up" and asserted that the defendant "shot down a police officer like a dog."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've known Warren a long time but he never asked me out until two months ago. On our first date he suggested that I meet him inside the movie because he might be late. He said, "I hope you won't mind buying your own ticket."

A week later Warren invited me to a concert and asked me to pick up a pair of tickets because my office is next door to the ticket agency. He said, "I'll reimburse you, of course." Somehow it slipped his mind.

He asked me to select a birthday gift for his mother. I spent $15. He keeps saying, "I must pay you for Mother's gift"— but I've yet to see the money.

Twice I have been stuck for taxis because he didn't have anything smaller than a $20 bill. Last night he asked me to bring an extra pack of cigarettes because he hadn't had time to buy any.

I've never known a fellow who behaved this way but when I'm with Warren the skies are blue and I can hear the birds sing. Any advice for me?—DEFICIT DONNA.

-:-

Dear Donna: Have you listened to those birds carefully? I think they are saying, "Cheap-cheap."

Put an end to the bumming routine. If Warren disappears, you haven't lost much.

Picture Paged

Dear Ann: Why do people who write a daily column insist on putting in a picture of themselves—and a picture that was made 20 years ago at that? No columnist whose mug shot I've ever seen in the paper could be recognized from his picture.

The space your picture uses up could accommodate about 85 words. I would rather read what you say than look at your face. I suggest you drop the picture, Miss Landers. Thanks a lot.—PHOTOFINISH.

-:-

Dear Photofinish: The mug shots which appear with columns are printed NOT because the writer thinks he is beautiful but because a picture helps the reader find the column immediately.

When my column first began no picture was used. After several readers accused me of being a cigar-chomping male, I asked my editors if they would run my picture. And it is up to date.

Now, aren't you sorry you said all those mean things?

Boorish Brood

Dear Ann: If you can tell me how to free myself of my stepchildren without losing my husband, you are a miracle worker.

We have been married 18 months. My husband's sons have borrowed money which I'm sure never will be repaid. They come over and drive his car out of the driveway without asking. They borrow his fishing equipment, walk off with his golf clubs, then complain because the golf balls are old.

My husband's daughter carried off my steam iron last week. When I asked her to return it she said, "I thought it was my mother's." I told her the iron was mine and she replied, "I dropped it and it's not worth fixing."

Saturday she brought her three children over and said they'd be back for them Sunday afternoon. (They had made plans to go to the mountains and the sitter fell through.)

My husband says I have to get along with them because they are his kids. How can I—and still keep my sanity?—8-BALL.

-:-

Dear 8: You can't do anything about a father who is a "shnook," but you don't have to be one, too.

Tell your stepdaughter to keep her pea-pickin' hands off your appliances. Refuse to allow her to dump her children on you. Let your husband know you will not allow his children to use you so shamelessly.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Thin Girl Trades Nerves For Curves

If you are thin as skim milk and yearn to add padding and curves, today's column from a former underweight is especially for you. This thin girl devised a novel way to whet her appetite.

Ida Jean Kain

"After 12 years of being underweight, I finally found the secret of how to gain. Formerly, food had no particular appeal for me. If I attempted to force myself to eat more at one meal, I would skip the next meal.

—:—

"MORE THAN a year ago I had a complete physical checkup from our family doctor. After being treated for anemia, I still was only 97 pounds for 5' 4". I had absolutely no appetite at all. I was nervous, tense and literally ran instead of walked. Three small, active boys helped not at all.

"A few months ago I decided to invite three of my neighbors in for a luncheon. Two were on diets and one was allergic to almost everything. So I sat down with a pile of cookbooks and read them over and over for a week and a half. I read descriptions of salads, fancy sandwiches, desserts and appetizers. I got so hungry looking at those beautiful pictures, I went out in the kitchen to get a snack. For the first time I noticed how really barren my cupboard was!

"Over to the store I went and loaded up on fresh fruits, fresh vegetables and good, wholesome food. I even bought lots of tasty cakes and such, but dropped sweets when my skin started breaking out.

"When I became interested in food, my appetite picked up amazingly. I began to plan wholesome snacks to eat in front of the TV. By the end of the first week I actually woke up in the middle of the night once because I felt hungry. Soon my capacity at mealtime got bigger, and I now enjoy my food.

"IF MY appetite lagged, I would pick up a cookbook and start reading recipes. A few months later. . .I know weigh 107 pounds. I've gained slowly, but steadily. Best of all, I'm not nervous and tense. My husband's compliments are spurring me onward. Tomorrow the world!

"For some reason I don't understand, I feel less inclined to rush, rush, rush. I relax more now. So the secret for me was to get interested in food, wholesome snacks and good meals. I hope this will help someone else."

It is plain to see that this homemaker feels like a new woman. One improvement leads to another. Treated for anemia first, she was free to gain. The awakened interested in food stimulated her appetite. The added pounds serve as a buffer to the nervous system and she can relax. Experiments have shown that a chronic state of under-nutrition tends to stimulate over-activity.

We congratulate this young woman, and appreciate her letter.

A. You might consult your physician just to set your mind at ease. Actually, many girls who menstruate regularly most of the year experience complete cessation during the summer. Doctors call it "summer amenorrhea." The cause is unknown. Like "stress amenorrhea," summer amenorrhea tends to diminish with age and virtually disappears in the twenties.

Children Are Gifted In Different Ways

Because of the recent wide attention to gifted children more and more parents are asking questions about children of above - average ability. The most common question is, "Who is the gifted child?" It is important to remember that all children have gifts. Nearly every parent believes his own child is gifted in some way, and this is as it should be.

Dr. Garry Myers

But the increased concern today for the "gifted child" centers mainly about the child of exceptionally high mental ability. This does not mean that all other types of gifts are unimportant. A gift for music, art or leadership is vitally important. But the concern for the child of high mental ability comes from the fact that for too many years this child did not receive enough recognition and encouragement.

So, if your school starts a program for gifted children and does not include your own child, it means only that your child is not gifted in the particular area on which the school intends to work.

IT IS our responsibility to find those areas in which the child is capable of being particularly good and then to help him develop to the limit of his ability. Working with children in their areas of strength, rather than in their areas of weakness, is far more effective.

The schools are presently concerned a great deal about the child who is gifted in his ability to learn academic subjects. This kind of gift is usually displayed early even by the preschool child who talks early, has a large vocabulary and displays an interest in reading.

It is tragic when children who have the capability of being gifted in verbal areas do not have the opportunity to develop because they have not been exposed to adults who speak and read to them. The importance of early education, and encouragement, is recognized today as being more important than any other single factor.

Another question frequently asked is, "Should my child be in a special class or program in the school?" The answer to this must be made for each individual child. The school is in the best position to decide which children should be in the class or program, for they can objectively examine the evidence in terms of the goals of the program, as well as the other children who are to be in the class. Not all children with high mental ability will benefit from special class placement.

ON THE other hand, keeping a gifted child out of a special class because he can more easily make higher grades in the regular program, is bad.

"What happens to gifted children in later life?" There is ample research evidence that children identified early as gifted, who are encouraged to develop their gift and at the same time allowed to develop emotionally in healthy ways, become valuable, productive leaders in later life. The full development of each child, in terms of his own abilities, should be the goal of parents and the school.

Parents, teachers and others wishing to learn more of what is known about gifted children and the various theories and practices in their education, will find the following authors among those who have written, some extensively, on the subject: Walter B. Barbe; Jack W. Birch; Cyril Burt; Edward C. Frierson; J. W. Getzels; J. C. Gowan; Edith H. Grotberg; J. P. Guilford; Robert J. Havighurst; P. W. Jackson; Margaret Mead; A. Harry Passow; Julian C. Stanley; Ruth Strang; Lewis M. Terman; E. Paul Torrance; Virgil S. Ward, and Paul A. Witty. With these names in mind, you might save time in searching for related books and articles in the library.

Red Cross Maps Plans For Swim Course Program

Preliminary plans for the annual East Liverpool Area Red Cross Chapter's summer swimming program in cooperation with the Thompson Park Pool were made at a meeting of the water safety committee Wednesday.

Mrs. R. J. Schiff, chairman, said two swimming courses, each three weeks long, will be held — the first June 21-July 9, the second July 12-30, with a water show July 30.

Donald Ross, a coach at Beaver Local School, will again direct the program.

A training course for water safety aides in the program will be held June 14-19 from 8:45 to 11:30 p. m. at the pool.

The aide course will be for those who have completed junior and senior life saving, are 14 or older and are interested in assisting Ross with the teaching of the classes.

About 25 aides are needed, and anyone interested may telephone the chapter headquarters at FU 6-4144.

Registration forms for the swim classes will be available next Thursday. Requirements include a physician's statement that the swimming student is physically fit, along with parents' approval for those younger than 18.

Gridiron Has New Look . . .

The improvement program at Patterson Field is beginning to bear fruit, with 2,000 new bleacher seats installed this week on the east side of the gridiron.

With the new bleachers in place, the next step will be lighting. Work on this phase of the program is expected to get under way next week.

While the work continues around the field, the actual playing service on the gridiron also is receiving a face lifting. The entire field has been resodded and should be healthier than ever.

The campaign to raise $50,000 for the improvements continues and the total is hovering around the halfway mark.

One of the latest contributors to the Patterson Field Improvement Fund is a former principal at East Liverpool High School.

Bill Harrington, who served as principal here in 1951-52, mailed his donation. He currently is serving as dean of the School of Education at Bowling Green State University.

Another donation was received from George "Pop" Kidder, a former Potter football coach who guided the 1926 team. Pop coached Dick Larkins, the present athletic director at Ohio State. Kidder is now teaching the Akron school system.

Kiggans In Who's Who . . .

BOB KIGGANS, the ex-Wellsville basketball star who went on to captain The Citadel has been named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Kiggans was chosen for excelling academically, militarily and in extracurricular activities.

Bob will graduate May 29 and is majoring in education at the Charleston (S. C.) school.

He is enrolled in the Air Force ROTC program, where he has received coveted designation which entitles him to apply for a regular rather than a reserve comission as second lieutenant after graduation.

Big Jump For Freshman . . .

FROM WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY comes a story about a freshman, who, having learned that an intramural track meet would start in 15 minutes, proceeded to high jump 6 feet, 6 inches and, unofficially, 6 feet, 7 inches, to the surprise of bystanders.

Dave Horner had last jumped in 1962 for Johnstown, (Pa.) High School and cleared 6 feet, 2 inches. He worked two years as a laborer, then entered West Virginia last fall.

"I felt bad," Horner said in relating what happened earlier this month. "I stayed up studying until 4:30 A.M., took two exams and drilled with the ROTC from 3 to 4 P.M." Enroute home from the drill, he said, someone invited him to compete in the intramural meet at the Stadium.

Horner jumped 5 feet, 2 inches on his first try, then 5-4, 5-8 and 5-10 on successive tries. It took two jumps to make six feet, followed by leaps of 6-1 and 6-3.

He cleared 6-4 on his third attempt and 6-5 on the second to break a long existing Stadium record. The bar went to 6-6 and Horner went over the third time.

He failed in three tries at 6-7 and officially won the intramural meet with a new Stadium record. He later tried 6-7 and made it, but unofficially.

After his 23rd jump of the day without any preparation, he retired with a shin split.

Thus ended one of the most amazing accomplishments in WVU sports history. It could be only the first chapter in the career of this extremely promising freshman.

Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts, whose strong suit with the Indians this season was supposed to be hitting, has suddenly found some pitching to go with his punch.

Tebbetts' staff has permitted just five runs in the last four games, the latest a 5-2 victory over Baltimore Thursday night that completed a three-game sweep of the Orioles.

Sonny Siebert, whose 4-2 record and 2.43 earned-run average is secnd best on the Indian staff, stifled the Orioles on six hits going into the ninth. When Baltimore threatened, Gary Bell came on to strike out rookie flash Curt Blefary with two on, ending it.

Fred Whitfield's two-run homer capped a four-run Cleveland second inning against Baltimore starter Dave McNally. After that, Siebert took over.

Elsewhere in the American League, Mel Stottlemyre celebrated the birth of his second son by beating the Boston Red Sox 6-3 for New York and Detroit shaded Washington 9-8 in 10 innings.

Ralph Terry, scheduled to open the series against Boston tonight, is Cleveland's leading pitcher with a 4-1 mark and a 2.42 ERA. Bell with a 1-1 record and 2.57 ERA for 12 relief roles, is the top man in the bullpen.

The Indians' off-season trading activity was aimed at getting some hitting to supplement Leon Wagner. They acquired Rocky Colavito and Chuck Hinton and seemed set in the power department. Terry, however, was the only new pitcher on the club.

Sophomore Luis Tiant started Cleveland's latest surge with a 7-3 victory over Washington Sunday. Jack Kralick and Don McMahon blanked Baltimore 1-0 on Tuesday and Sam McDowell shut out the Orioles 2-0 on Wednesday.

Stottlemyre got the news of his son's birth early Thursday and then went out and beat the Red Sox with ninth-inning help from Pedro Ramos.

Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh tagged two-run homers with Pepitone's shot in the third inning climaxing a four-run burst against Red Sox starter Bill Monbouquette.

Ramos came on with two on and one out in the ninth and got out of the jam with a double play. It was his fourth save and only the sixth for the Yankee staff this year.

Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer in the 10th gave Detroit its victory and offset five Washington homers. Don Lock's pinch homer in the 10th had given the Senators the lead before a walk and McAuliffe's shot broke it up in the bottom half.

Frank Howard, Woodie Held, Don Zimmer and Ed Brinkman had homered earlier for the Senators.

Nine Beaver Local athletes received special awards when over 100 were honored at the eighth annual spring all - sports banquet Thursday night at the high school.

Some 300 attended the dinner highlighted by the presentation of awards and a talk by Clark Hinkle of Toronto, a member of the Professional Football Hall of Fame. The affair was sponsored by the Boosters Club.

Five members of the basketball squad, which equaled the best won-loss record in the school's history, received trophy awards.

DENNIS Horger was cited as the team's top scorer and also the leader with assists. Don Goodman was named the most improved player while Norm Gaydos was chosen the top defensive performer. The most agressive player was Jim Hamilton while the rebounding award went to Dick Rudibaugh.

Farnum Shasteen, the Beavers' outstanding wrestler this past season, who captured a district championship, swept the wrestling awards. He was chosen team captain and also named the most valuable wrestler for the 1964-65 season.

The highest award in baseball went to junior southpaw Frank Quetot who earlier this season pitched a no - hitter for the Beavers. Horger was presented an award as team captain.

—:—

ANOTHER junior took the track award. Larry Roberts, who set the school mark in the shot put and discus events, was named the most valuable performer in track while Rudibaugh received the captain's trophy.

Five golfers were honored with varsity letters and John Stull was awarded the captain's trophy.

Ed Stevens, athletic director introduced Hinkle who reviewed his 18 years in football as an all-American at Bucknell and later an all-pro back with the Green Bay Packers for 10 years from 1932-1942.

In attempting to compare the present day players with the players of his day, Hinkle said "there is no way to compare the two generations. You can't compare a 60 minute player of my day to the 30 minute specialist of today."

—:—

HINKLE pointed out that he was asked how many years he played professional football and he answered, "I played 20 years. I spent 10 years on defense and 10 years on offense, in those days you played both ways for 60 minutes."

"Football in America is a way of life and it gave me an education and a career," he added.

"I was selected to the Hall of Fame but I didn't get there on my own, I had a lot of help along the way from some outstanding teammates who will never be recognized for their ability."

Hinkle was inducted into the Hall of Fame during ceremonies last September at Canton. He held many NFL rushing records when he was leading the Packers to championships.

Braves Spoil Spahn's Return Home On Blasingame's 1-Hit Performance

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some 19,000 Warren Spahn fans went to Milwaukee's County Stadium to see a great lefthander. And they did.

His name, however, was Wade Blasingame.

Blasingame was everything Spahn used to be as he kept the New York Mets off balance with his breaking pitches Thursday night and allowed only one hit — Ron Swoboda's ground single with two out in the seventh inning — as the Milwaukee Braves ruined Spahn's return home, 7-1.

For the first time since opening day, the upper stands at County Stadium were open to accommodate the large crowd that turned out to cheer Spahn, who was unceremoniously sold to the Mets last season after 20 years with the Braves.

But the 44-year-old Spahn showed his age while the 21-year-old Blasingame showed his stuff.

Some of the stuff was taught by Spahn, who tutored the young southpaw when he was called up from Denver in mid-June last season. Blasingame applied the lessons quickly and posted a 9-5 record.

However, he had only a 2-4 record going into Thursday night's game but took that opportunity to put his best pitches forward while Spahn was drubbed in a seven-run fifth-inning uprising that included a grand-slam homer by Eddie Mathews, his teammate of 13 years.

Spahn was out of the game when Swoboda collected the Mets' only hit on a grounder back through the middle that Blasingame said he should have been able to get.

Meanwhile, unbeaten Bob Gibson won his eighth game as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped Philadelphia for their seventh victory in eight games, Gordy Coleman lifted his average to a National League-leading .416 with four hits in Cincinnati's 11-3 thumping of Pittsburgh and Willie Mays hit homer No. 15 in San Francisco's 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Los Angeles Dodgers and Houston were not scheduled.

Spahn, now 3-4, had allowed only two hits when Rico Carty triggered the seven-run fifth with a double. Gene Oliver's double scored Carty before singles by Frank Bolling and Sandy Alomar and a walk produced another run and left the bases filled.

Mathews proceeded to clear them with the seventh grand slam of his career and his eighth homer of the season.

The Cardinals made it easy for Gibson, shelling five Phillie pitchers for 13 hits, including homers by Curt Flood and Phil Gagliano Flood drove in four runs with a two-run homer and a double as St. Louis chased Chris Short and pushed across seven runs in the first two innings.

Gibson went into the ninth with a four-hit shutout but lost it when Tony Gonzalez hit a homer following a walk to John Briggs.

Coleman took over the batting lead from Mays by stroking four singles in five trips. Vada Pinson slugged a homer and two singles, drove in three runs, scored three and stole a base as the Reds punched out 14 hits against Bob Friend and four successors.

Sammy Ellis got the victory for a 6-1 record, limiting the Pirates to seven hits.

Mays ended a scoreless tie in the seventh inning by leading off with a homer against Cubs' starter Larry Jackson. Bob Shaw got the victory with relief help from Masanori Murakami after holding Chicago to six hits through seven innings.

NFL Sets 37 Exhibitions

NEW YORK (AP) — A schedule of 37 pre-season games, including the 32nd All-Star classic at Chicago and the annual doubleheader at Cleveland, was announced today by the National Football League.

The College All-Stars vs. the NFL champion Cleveland Browns on Friday night Aug. 6 opens the six-week schedule and will be one of nine games televised nationally. The regular season starts Sept. 19.

Cleveland will oppose the Green Bay Packers and the Detroit Lions will play the New York Giants in the Cleveland doubleheader Sept. 4. The Browns, Philadelphia Eagles and Washington Redskins have six exhibitions apiece, while the 11 other teams will play five each.

Drivers Vie For Honors At Canfield

It has been a season of surprises at Canfield Speedway and it will be anyone's guess who will be the victor Saturday night when the late models and amateurs get together.

In four late model features and four amateur features no driver has been able to repeat.

Bob Greer of Hubbard, Mason Hiester of Youngstown, George Hegodus of Cortland and Bill Forney of Youngstown have won late model 30 lappers this season.

In the amateur division, Art Simcox of New Middletown, Gary Walters of Niles, Art Figinsky of North Jackson and Lou Parker of Struthers have copped the checkered flag.

All of these drivers will be back Saturday night for the 12-race card, but if form runs true new winners will be grabbing the laurels.

Jim Bickerstaff of Mineral Ridge, the 1964 point champion in the late model division has found the going rough. His best effort was a second on April 24.

Last week Bickerstaff had his car literally torn apart and limped back into the pits after 11 laps. At the time he was running second.

Bob Blaney of Hartord is another threat. Blaney came in second behind Forney last week with Glenn Campbell of Tallmage third. Blaney was third the previous week.

There will be upwards of 90 cars on hand this week for the 12 events. The Australian pursuit has been added to the amateur events. They also compete in two heat races and the 20-lap feature.

The late models have a helmet dash, four heat duels, two consolations, the pursuit and a 30-lap feature.

Time trials start at 6:30 p. m. and first race at 8.

Buck Coach Squares Off With Iowa's Evashevski

IOWA City, Iowa (AP) — "I wished," said a Big Ten athletic director "that we could have matched Woody and Evy in Ohio State's stadium and I could have been the promoter. I would have made a million."

The athletic director asked, "please don't identify me. I'm not a fighter. I was scared, just watching" Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes and Iowa Athletic Director Forest Evashevski.

The director was among those at a Big Ten meeting who saw Hayes and Evashevski nearly meet in a fist fight Wednesday.

Speculation about the outcome of such an encounter was mixed.

"That would be a real battle," said one Big Ten coach, who did not want to be named. "Both of those guys are pretty tough. I wish it had not been stopped. Boy, what a blood-letting we would have seen."

Odds on the outcome if two of the most famous persons in athletics in the country had battled were about even.

Hayes has had more fighting experience. He has decked at least one sports writer. Evy has no fighting background but verbally has bitten off the heads of several sports writers without resorting to fisticuffs.

Evashevski is obvously more fleet afoot. However, neither he nor Hayes put up a fuss when they were separated by Purdue Athletic Director Red Mackey.

That was the climax of an argument in which spectators said Evashevski accused Hayes of being a disgrace to his profession for his sideline conduct, and the Ohio State coach retorted that Evashevski's record as a coach and recruiter left him in no position to criticize.

Hayes then whipped off his coat in the meeting of conference coaches and athletic directors, charged at Evashevski, told him to stand up and threatened to whip him.

Neither Evy nor Woody, normally outspoke, wanted to talk Thursday about the incident.

Braves Spoil Spahn's Return Home On Blasingame's 1-Hit Performance

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some 19,000 Warren Spahn fans went to Milwaukee's County Stadium to see a great left-hander. And they did.

His name, however, was Wade Blasingame.

Blasingame was everything Spahn used to be as he kept the New York Mets off balance with his breaking pitches Thursday night and allowed only one hit — Ron Swoboda's ground single with two out in the seventh inning — as the Milwaukee Braves ruined Spahn's return home, 7-1.

For the first time since opening day, the upper stands at County Stadium were open to accommodate the large crowd that turned out to cheer Spahn, who was unceremoniously sold to the Mets last season after 20 years with the Braves.

But the 44-year-old Spahn showed his age while the 21-year-old Blasingame showed his stuff.

Some of the stuff was taught by Spahn, who tutored the young southpaw when he was called up from Denver in mid-June last season. Blasingame applied the lessons quickly and posted a 9-5 record.

However, he had only a 2-4 record going into Thursday night's game but took that opportunity to put his best pitches forward while Spahn was drubbed in a seven-run fifth-inning uprising that included a grand-slam homer by Eddie Mathews, his teammate of 13 years.

Spahn was out of the game when Swoboda collected the Mets' only hit on a grounder back through the middle that Blasingame said he should have been able to get.

Meanwhile, unbeaten Bob Gibson won his eighth game as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped Philadelphia for their seventh victory in eight games, Gordy Coleman lifted his average to a National League-leading .416 with four hits in Cincinnati's 11-3 thumping of Pittsburgh and Willie Mays hit homer No. 15 in San Francisco's 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Los Angeles Dodgers and Houston were not scheduled.

Spahn, now 3-4, had allowed only two hits when Rico Carty triggered the seven-run fifth with a double. Gene Oliver's double scored Carty before singles by Frank Bolling and Sandy Alomar and a walk produced another run and left the bases filled.

Mathews proceeded to clear them with the seventh grand slam of his career and his eighth homer of the season.

The Cardinals made it easy for Gibson, shelling five Phillie pitchers for 13 hits, including homers by Curt Flood and Phil Gagliano Flood drove in four runs with a two-run homer and a double as St. Louis chased Chris Short and pushed across seven runs in the first two innings.

Coleman took over the batting lead from Mays by stroking four singles in five trips. Vada Pinson slugged a homer and two singles, drove in three runs, scored three and stole a base as the Reds punched out 14 hits against Bob Friend and four successors.

Sammy Ellis got the victory for a 6-1 record, limiting the Pirates to seven hits.

Mays ended a scoreless tie in the seventh inning by leading off with a homer against Cubs' starter Larry Jackson. Bob Shaw got the victory with relief help from Masanori Murakami after holding Chicago to six hits through seven innings.

Rookie Seen Chief Threat At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Mason Rudolph and Bob McCallister, the first-round leaders in the $60,000 Memphis Open, are two brave men on a golf course but a lad who has been a pro less than a month had them shaking in their shoes today.

That rookie's name is Homero Blancas and he is the odds-on choice to be golfing's Rookie of the Year after just four tournaments.

Blancas, a 27-year-old University of Houston graduate, trailed Rudolph and McCallister by one stroke going into today's second round. Rudolph and McCallister both shot 65s in the first round Thursday, while Blancas and two others finished with 66s.

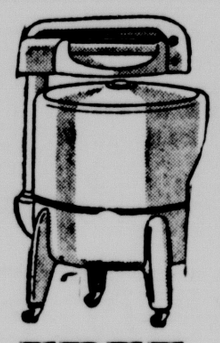

In his debut as a pro, Blancas picked up $2,425 for a seventh-place finish in the Houston Classic. He then tied for 16th in the Texas Open and won $875. Last week at New Orleans, he was among the leaders all the way and finished in a tie for seventh for $3,200 in prize money.

There has been no man in the history of the professional game who has started so fast.

Others at 66 were Julius Boros and George Archer.

Jack Nicklaus blew a chance to tie for the lead when he three-putted the 18th green and finished with a 67. Others who fired 67s were Dave Marr, Kel Nagle and Jack McGowan.

In all, 35 players broke par Thursday and 10 others equaled it.

Cleveland Black Nationalist Unit Accused Of Plot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Police Chief Richard R. Wagner, testifying on capital punishment before an Ohio House committee, charged Thursday that a Cleveland black nationalist group is part of a revolutionary movement.

"In Cleveland . . . we have people saying they intend to overthrow the government of the United States and, incidentally, shoot all Caucasians," Wagner said.

He identified the revolutionary group as RAM, according to a Cleveland Plain Dealer account of the hearing.

RAM is an organization which describes itself as the Black Liberation Front of the U.S.A. The letters in the name stand for Revolutionary Action Movement.

The police chief told the House Judiciary Committee abolition of the death penalty would allow RAM to "tell its agents, as a recruiting argument: 'If you are sent to prison we will release you when we take over.'"

Thus, he said, the fear of the electric chair no longer would hang over the heads of persons plotting killings.

Drive To Boost Bond Sales Set

A person-to-person campaign to give employes the opportunity to purchase U.S. Savings Bonds under the payroll deduction plan will be conducted in the plants and offices of the Weirton Steel Co. the week of June 6.

C. G. Tournay, president, said the campaign is part of the "Star-Spangled Savings Plan" being conducted in American industry this year by the Treasury Department to increase the sales of bonds on the payroll deduction basis.

He added that the company's effort is part of a seven-county metropolitan Pittsburgh campaign headed by Fletcher L. Byrom, president of Koppers Co., Inc.

Volunteer workers from the company will conduct the person-to-person campaign, giving employes the opportunity to sign up to buy bonds or to increase the amount of their purchases if they are already signed up in the payroll savings plan.

A kickoff luncheon will be held next Wednesday at the Weirton Community Center, at which time volunteer workers will receive briefings and campaign material. Report luncheons are scheduled for June 9 and June 16 at the center, with the latter date marking the conclusion of the campaign.

Brush Blaze Battled In Yellow Creek Area

A brush fire Thursday night on the old Taggart farm in Yellow Creek Township on Township Rd. 1009 was fought for an hour by 13 men and a pumper, Don Boyd, Highlandtown fire chief, reported today.

The blaze burned off an acre of ground and damaged a telephone pole before it was extinguished. Telephone service was not disrupted, however.

Trash which had been dumped in the area was blamed as a contributing cause.

4-H News

The No. 16 Agriculture 4-H Club met Tuesday night at the Oak Ridge Church in Wellsville.

Jim Wellington called the meeting to order and led devotions.

John Gates presented a demonstration, Ron Woods discussed snakes and Fortune Glover gave a safety talk on swimming.

The next meeting will be June 10 at the home of Keith Serafy of Wellsville R.D. 1.

Tiger Drubs Carter, Eyes Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — "Tell Joe Giardello I'm going to call him about that title fight," said Nigeria's Dick Tiger after he floored Rubin Carter and soundly drubbed him in a 10-rounder Thursday night.

The 35-year-old African, who lost his middleweight crown to Giardello 17 months ago, planned to telephone Giardello this afternoon for a definite yes or no.

Tiger made a strong bid for the title shot with his lop-sided win over the 28-year-old Jersey jolter who lost narrowly to Giardello in a title fight last December.

Dick dropped the Paterson, N.J., contender twice in the second round, once in the fourth, and had him in trouble in most of the other rounds. After the second it was no contest, except for one flurry by Carter in the seventh.

Two Autos Involved In Chester Accident

A 1958 sedan driven by Clarence Barber of Salineville R. D. 1 struck a 1960 sedan driven by Sherry L. Willey of Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, about 3:30 Thursday afternoon, Chester police reported today.

Barber was treated for a bruised arm later in the day at City Hospital as a result of the accident, which occurred on the 1st St. overpass.

Barber was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control by Audley Campbell, investigating patrolman, and is scheduled to appear before Mayor Harry Abrams tonight at 7:30.

Combined damage of $200 was estimated.

Ike Rips Johnson's 'Great Society' Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says President Johnson's "Great Society" program is an effort "to establish instant paradise."

In an address Thursday night before 500 executives of the National Industrial Conference Board, Eisenhower said the growth of the federal government has been "octopus-like."

"The government has displayed great ingenuity in contriving new ways to invade the provinces of states and localities," he said.

Rookie Seen Chief Threat At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Mason Rudolph and Bob McCallister, the first-round leaders in the $60,000 Memphis Open, are two brave men on a golf course but a lad who has been a pro less than a month had them shaking in their shoes today.

That rookie's name is Homero Blancas and he is the odds-on choice to be golfing's Rookie of the Year after just four tournaments.

Blancas, a 27-year-old University of Houston graduate, trailed Rudolph and McCallister by one stroke going into today's second round. Rudolph and McCallister both shot 65s in the first round Thursday, while Blancas and two others finished with 66s.

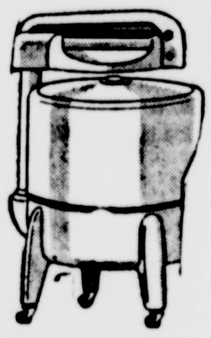

In his debut as a pro, Blancas picked up $2,425 for a seventh-place finish in the Houston Classic. He then tied for 16th in the Texas Open and won $875. Last week at New Orleans, he was among the leaders all the way and finished in a tie for seventh for $3,200 in prize money.

There has been no man in the history of the professional game who has started so fast.

Others at 66 were Julius Boros and George Archer.

Jack Nicklaus blew a chance to tie for the lead when he three-putted the 18th green and finished with a 67. Others who fired 67s were Dave Marr, Kel Nagle and Jack McGowan.

In all, 35 players broke par Thursday and 10 others equaled it.

Cleveland Black Nationalist Unit Accused Of Plot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Police Chief Richard R. Wagner, testifying on capital punishment before an Ohio House committee, charged Thursday that a Cleveland black nationalist group is part of a revolutionary movement.

"In Cleveland . . . we have people saying they intend to overthrow the government of the United States and, incidentally, shoot all Caucasians," Wagner said.

He identified the revolutionary group as RAM, according to a Cleveland Plain Dealer account of the hearing.

RAM is an organization which describes itself as the Black Liberation Front of the U.S.A. The letters in the name stand for Revolutionary Action Movement.

The police chief told the House Judiciary Committee abolition of the death penalty would allow RAM to "tell its agents, as a recruiting argument: 'If you are sent to prison we will release you when we take over.'"

Thus, he said, the fear of the electric chair no longer would hang over the heads of persons plotting killings.

The oldest company in the world is "The Great Copper Mountain Mining Corporation" of Falun, Sweden, which dates back to 1288.

Drive To Boost Bond Sales Set

A person-to-person campaign to give employes the opportunity to purchase U.S. Savings Bonds under the payroll deduction plan will be conducted in the plants and offices of the Weirton Steel Co. the week of June 6.

C. G. Tournay, president, said the campaign is part of the "Star-Spangled Savings Plan" being conducted in American industry this year by the Treasury Department to increase the sales of bonds on the payroll deduction basis.

He added that the company's effort is part of a seven-county metropolitan Pittsburgh campaign headed by Fletcher L. Byrom, president of Koppers Co., Inc.

Volunteer workers from the company will conduct the person-to-person campaign, giving employes the opportunity to sign up to buy bonds or to increase the amount of their purchases if they are already signed up in the payroll savings plan.

A kickoff luncheon will be held next Wednesday at the Weirton Community Center, at which time volunteer workers will receive briefings and campaign material. Report luncheons are scheduled for June 9 and June 16 at the center, with the latter date marking the conclusion of the campaign.

Brush Blaze Battled In Yellow Creek Area

A brush fire Thursday night on the old Taggart farm in Yellow Creek Township on Township Rd. 1009 was fought for an hour by 13 men and a pumper, Don Boyd, Highlandtown fire chief, reported today.

The blaze burned off an acre of ground and damaged a telephone pole before it was extinguished. Telephone service was not disrupted, however.

Trash which had been dumped in the area was blamed as a contributing cause.

4-H News

Tiger Drubs Carter, Eyes Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — "Tell Joe Giardello I'm going to call him about that title fight," said Nigeria's Dick Tiger after he floored Rubin Carter and soundly drubbed him in a 10-rounder Thursday night.

The 35-year-old African, who lost his middleweight crown to Giardello 17 months ago, planned to telephone Giardello this afternoon for a definite yes or no.

Tiger made a strong bid for the title shot with his lop-sided win over the 28-year-old Jersey jolter who lost narrowly to Giardello in a title fight last December.

Dick dropped the Paterson, N.J., contender twice in the second round, once in the fourth, and had him in trouble in most of the other rounds. After the second it was no contest, except for one flurry by Carter in the seventh.

Two Autos Involved In Chester Accident

A 1958 sedan driven by Clarence Barber of Salineville R. D. 1 struck a 1960 sedan driven by Sherry L. Willey of Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, about 3:30 Thursday afternoon, Chester police reported today.

Barber was treated for a bruised arm later in the day at City Hospital as a result of the accident, which occurred on the 1st St. overpass.

Barber was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control by Audley Campbell, investigating patrolman, and is scheduled to appear before Mayor Harry Abrams tonight at 7:30.

Combined damage of $200 was estimated.

Ike Rips Johnson's 'Great Society' Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says President Johnson's "Great Society" program is an effort "to establish instant paradise."

In an address Thursday night before 500 executives of the National Industrial Conference Board, Eisenhower said the growth of the federal government has been "octopus-like."

"The government has displayed great ingenuity in contriving new ways to invade the provinces of states and localities," he said.

Reminder Given Tax Delinquents By City's Agency

Reminders are being mailed daily to persons who failed to file required individual city income tax returns before the deadline April 15, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today.

Final returns were required on 1964 income as well as declarations of estimated tax for 1965, Wilkinson said. About 10 per cent of the affected taxpayers failed to comply, he said.

"The law must and will be enforced, even though it may require court action in some cases," Wilkinson declared.

He urged all persons who have failed to comply to file the reports by June 1.

Wilkinson pointed out the individual returns are required only from persons whose entire income is not subject to withholding at the source. Where the tax is withheld at the source, the employer's report to the city obviates the need for an individual return.

Man, 103, Receives Johnson's Greetings

NEW YORK (AP) — "One hundred and three years span more than half the life of the United States. Your anniversary reminds us anew of our country's youth and vitality and of the opportunities open for us through the lifetimes ahead."

The greeting came from President Johnson for Edward Everett Cauthorne, who celebrated his 103rd birthday in Queens Thursday.

Cauthorne, a native of Missouri who lives at a home for the aged, was feted at a luncheon. His days as a cowboy, schoolteacher and court clerk at the trial of Frank James, the brother of Jesse, all were recalled. He was hailed as the oldest living alumnus of Harvard and the University of Texas.

Russell Would Favor A-Bomb Use In Viet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., looking fit and saying he will seek re-election in 1966, favors use of the atomic bomb in Viet Nam if Chinese Communists should attempt to conquer the war-torn country.

Russell, in his first news conference since being hospitalized by bronchitis and emphysema Feb. 2, said Thursday that if the Chinese Communists force their way into Viet Nam "I would use as big a bomb as necessary to keep our American troops stationed over there from being overwhelmed."

The largest port in the world is New York Harbor, with a navigable waterfront of 460 miles in New York and 295 miles in New Jersey. Its docks and piers handle an annual average of about 26,000 ships.

Reminder Given Tax Delinquents By City's Agency

Reminders are being mailed daily to persons who failed to file required individual city income tax returns before the deadline April 15, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today.

Final returns were required on 1964 income as well as declarations of estimated tax for 1965, Wilkinson said. About 10 per cent of the affected taxpayers failed to comply, he said.

"The law must and will be enforced, even though it may require court action in some cases," Wilkinson declared.

He urged all persons who have failed to comply to file the reports by June 1.

Wilkinson pointed out the individual returns are required only from persons whose entire income is not subject to withholding at the source. Where the tax is withheld at the source, the employer's report to the city obviates the need for an individual return.

Man, 103, Receives Johnson's Greetings

NEW YORK (AP) — "One hundred and three years span more than half the life of the United States. Your anniversary reminds us anew of our country's youth and vitality and of the opportunities open for us through the lifetimes ahead."

The greeting came from President Johnson for Edward Everett Cauthorne, who celebrated his 103rd birthday in Queens Thursday.

Cauthorne, a native of Missouri who lives at a home for the aged, was feted at a luncheon. His days as a cowboy, schoolteacher and court clerk at the trial of Frank James, the brother of Jesse, all were recalled. He was hailed as the oldest living alumnus of Harvard and the University of Texas.

Russell Would Favor A-Bomb Use In Viet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., looking fit and saying he will seek re-election in 1966, favors use of the atomic bomb in Viet Nam if Chinese Communists should attempt to conquer the war-torn country.

Russell, in his first news conference since being hospitalized by bronchitis and emphysema Feb. 2, said Thursday that if the Chinese Communists force their way into Viet Nam "I would use as big a bomb as necessary to keep our American troops stationed over there from being overwhelmed."

The largest port in the world is New York Harbor, with a navigable waterfront of 460 miles in New York and 295 miles in New Jersey. Its docks and piers handle an annual average of about 26,000 ships.

Junior Editors Quiz on SUNDIALS

QUESTION: How do sundials work?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Sundials came before clocks as instruments for measuring time. They were used in Babylon some 4000 years ago. The principle is that the shadow of an upright piece of metal called the "gnomon" moves around a flat dial as the sun travels from east to west. The dial is marked in hours as in our picture, from 6 A. M. until noon on the left side, and from noon until 6 P. M. on the right side. To be really accurate, the gnomon is supposed to point toward true north or the North Pole, instead of magnetic north, as the compass does. Also, the angle of the gnomon should be the same as the latitude (distance north or south from the equator) of the place where the sundial is. This sounds complicated. But, as we suggest in the illustration, you can make a sundial out of cardboard which will work very well, even if you can't figure out true north and latitude. A square cardboard box, such as you get at a food market, makes a fine base with the bottom side up. Cut a slit in this for the gnomon.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Mark box as we show, drawing around a 10-inch dinner plate to get circle. Put gnomon in slit and set in sunlight, pointing upright slanting edge of gnomon toward north. Check with clock when on the hour, moving gnomon until clock and sundial agree. (Your sundial will show standard time; if on daylight saving time, allow for difference.)

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: I wonder if you have ever tried putting dried onion soup mix into plain ol' hamburger meat and mixing it well before making those hamburgers. Salisbury steaks,—or meat loaf?

One doesn't have to use a whole package either. First time, try about a fourth package of mix to each pound of hamburger.

It surely gives that hamburger meat a new lift and taste. . . . Wow!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If a lock works hard, squirt a little powdered graphite in it and work the key several times.

If you know the lock is dirty, squirt a little cleaning fluid in to clean it, then use the graphite.

VETERAN LOCKSMITH

P.S.: If this doesn't help. . . look under "Locksmith" in the classified directory of your telephone book.

V.L.

DEAR HELOISE: Our little child's old pottie chair surely looks great now.

My husband cut a piece of board to cover the hole on the seat part, and I made a little pillow to cover it. I even padded the arms a little, then I made a slip - cover for the whole chair.

The kids love it for a TV chair.

GLORIA D.

DEAR HELOISE: To prevent getting powder on my bathroom rug, I cut a double thickness of nylon net and put it over the powder in the box.

It lets just enough powder come through and doesn't give a surplus on my puff.

ANNABELLE COOPER.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Looking above, I've jumped from pinning ribbons together, to sick kids, back to pinning socks together and to sick kids again.

No wonder my dear, darling husband says I have a "flea-brain," it jumps from one thing to another without a second thought!!!

LUCIA N.C.

DEAR HELOISE: It seems there is never enough room in the medicine cabinet for all the small things I would like to keep in it, so I bought a small spice cabinet and hung it on my bathroom wall.

It holds all the small things, except medicines, such as nail polish, polish remover, deodorant air freshener, shaving cream, after shave lotion, lipstick, dental floss, cornpads, etc.

Surely is neater now.

MRS. M.A.B.

DEAR HELOISE: When I used to work full time, I sent my husband's shirts to the laundry.

When I became a full-time housewife, I started doing his shirts myself but I had saved the cleaner's cardboards and plastic bags, and I reuse them.

Very handy for storing shirts in a drawer.

MRS. PIPER.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought a steering wheel cover, and by cutting it in half, made it into two wheel covers for my chaise lounge!

They prevent rubber wheel marks on my rug, as I use the chaise in the house for a sick or ailing person.

The chaise is wonderful for those who can't sleep lying down.

MRS. C. E. FARRINGTON.

And this would also be a great idea for little children's tricycles when they play in the house.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away your husband's nylon shaving brushes.

They make wonderful face powder brushes, are ideal for applying silver and brass polish, and are good for painting or gilding small objects.

1,100 Guests Flee Detroit Hotel Blaze

DETROIT (AP) — A five-alarm fire which drove some 1,100 guests from their rooms in the Statler Hilton Hotel in downtown Detroit today was put out within two hours by firemen, eight of whom were overcome by smoke.

No deaths were reported.

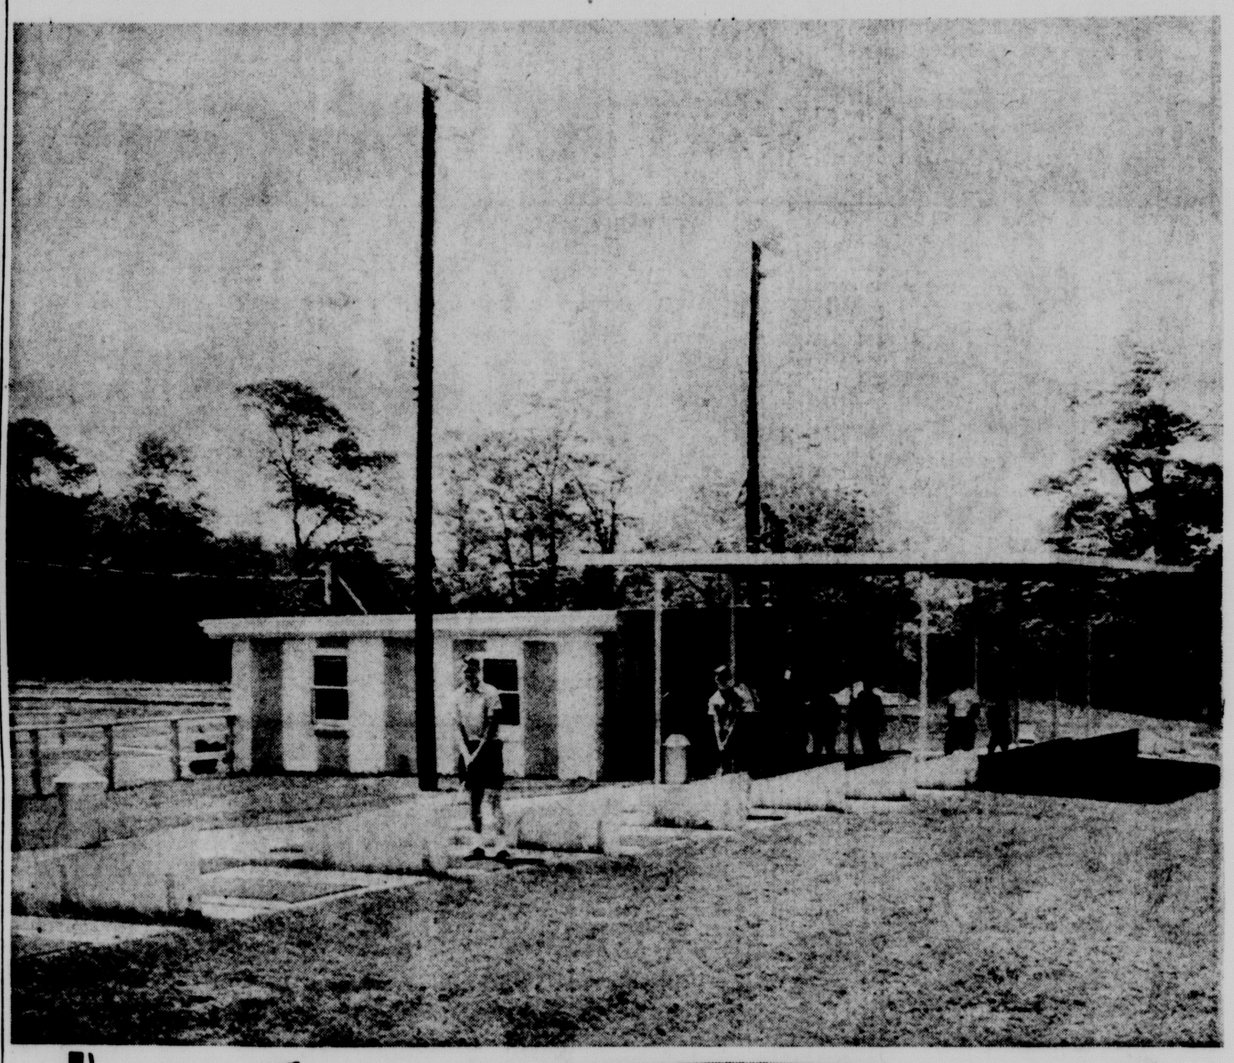

The blaze, cause of which was not known immediately, broke out on the ninth floor of the 15-story hotel.

Fire Chief Glen Thom, who said every piece of available fire equipment was at the scene, said the fire was confined to an elevator shaft and burned between the ninth and 14th floors.

Thom, who estimated damage at $250,000, said the blaze knocked out the power for the hotel's elevators and the guests had to walk down to the safety of the lobby while his men had to walk up to the fire scene or get there by ladder.

Many of the guests milled about the lobby of the hotel clad in pajamas or robes. Some of them went across the street to a hospitality suite which was opened for them at the Tuller Hotel. They were served coffee and allowed to wait out the blaze in comparative comfort.

Thom said they would be allowed to return to their rooms as soon as the smoke cleared from the hotel.

Rights Complacency Seen In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The head of the National Urban League says Cincinnati is a city suffering from civil rights "complacency."

"Cincinnati is often characterized as a Northern city suffering from Southern exposure," added Mrs. Cernoria D. Johnson of Washington, D.C., who spoke Thursday at a YMCA meeting.

She explained that certain cities, including Cincinnati, give lip service to equal rights to all, but then become complacent when they see "one or two Negroes put into important policy-making positions."

Probes Flier's Death

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The coroner's office today was investigating the death of S. Sgt. Bobby G. Cheek, 34, of Ashland, Ky., found dead Thursday in his living quarters at Wright, Patterson Air Force Base Hospital.

New Cumberland Kindergarten Set For Graduation

The New Cumberland kindergarten, sponsored by the New Cumberland Young Women's Club, has wound up activities for the year by taking several field trips around the area.

The children, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Homer B. Powell, and some of the mothers, visited the greenhouse of the Jones flower gardens; the fire station, where they were permitted to examine fire-fighting equipment, and the New Cumberland school, where they observed first - grade classes in session.

The tours were climaxed with a trip to the farm adjacent to the Hancock County Children's Home on Gas Valley Rd. near Pughtown, followed by a picnic at Tomlinson Run State Park.

Graduation for the class of 19 children will take place Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the New Cumberland community center.

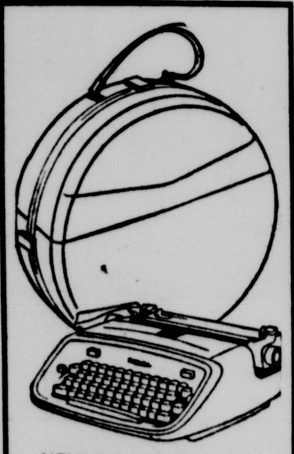

Registration for fall classes will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in Swaney Memorial Library.

Children must be five years of age by next Nov. 1 to be enrolled, the announcement said. The kindergarten is held September through May five days a week from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the library.

A monthly fee of $10 will be charged during the school year, plus a $2 registration fee. Children will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis, with enrollment limited to 19.
